SWAPS DE TAUX D'INTÉRÊT

CREDIT DEFAULT SWAPS

Le Fonds a conclu des contrats de « Credit Default Swaps », conçus pour transférer entre des parties une exposition de crédit sur des instruments à revenus fixes. Le montant des revenus fixes échangés contre un revenu lié à l'évolution d'événements de crédit d'un indice ou d'une obligation est calculé et comptabilisé lors de chaque calcul de la VNI.

SWAPS D'INFLATION

Le Fonds a souscrit des « swaps sur l'inflation ». Il s'agit de contrats qui offrent à la partie gagnante la différence entre un niveau d'inflation, appliqué à un montant nominal donné convenu à la conclusion du contrat, et un taux d'intérêt fixe appliqué à ce même montant nominal. Ledit montant est calculé et enregistré lors de chaque calcul de VNI.

19 STRUCTURE MAÎTRE-NOURRICIER

Amundi Funds Global Total Return Bond

Le Compartiment Amundi Funds Global Total Return Bond a pour objectif la croissance combinée du capital et des revenus (rendement total).

En particulier, le Compartiment investit en tant que fonds nourricier dans Amundi Oblig Internationales (fonds maître) afin de surperformer (après commissions applicables) l'ensemble de l'indice JP Morgan Global Government Bond sur une période donnée de 3 ans.

Le fonds maître investit principalement dans des titres obligataires ou des obligations convertibles de l'OCDE. Les investissements peuvent inclure des titres adossés à des créances hypothécaires (MBS) et des titres adossés à des actifs (ABS).

En particulier, le Compartiment investit au moins 85% de ses actifs nets dans des parts du fonds maître (classe OR-D).

Amundi Oblig Internationales est une SICAV de droit français éligible en qualité de fonds maître au titre de la Directive 2009/65/CE.

Le fonds maître investit jusqu'à 100% dans :

- des titres obligataires émis ou garantis par des États membres de l'OCDE,
- des titres obligataires et des obligations convertibles notés « investment grade » émis par des sociétés domiciliées ou exerçant une partie considérable de leurs activités au sein de l'OCDE,
- des titres MBS et ABS notés AAA (S&P) ou Aaa (Moody's) au moment de l'achat et dont la notation a été abaissée à AA ou Aa2 une fois détenus.

Les créances hypothécaires sous-jacentes des MBS peuvent être commerciales ou résidentielles, et les MBS peuvent être adossés, ou non, à tout type de garantie gouvernementale.

L'exposition du fonds maître à des obligations convertibles contingentes est limitée à 10% des actifs nets.

Le fonds maître offre gère activement son exposition sur les marchés des taux d'intérêt et des changes.

Conformément aux politiques précitées, le fonds maître pourra aussi investir dans des instruments du marché monétaire, des dépôts, et jusqu'à 10% de ses actifs nets dans des OPC/OPCVM.

Le fonds maître a largement recours à des produits dérivés pour réduire différents risques, à des fins de gestion efficace du portefeuille et pour obtenir une exposition (longue ou courte) à divers actifs, marchés ou autres opportunités d'investissement (notamment les produits dérivés ciblant le crédit et le change).

Le fonds maître pourra souscrire des opérations d'achat et de vente de titres de nature temporaire (contrats de pension livrée et de pension inversée sur titres).

Les revenus nets du fonds maître sont automatiquement distribués et ses plus-values nettes réalisées sont automatiquement réinvesties ou distribuées chaque année, dans la mesure établie par la société de gestion du fonds maître.

L'équipe d'investissement du fonds maître utilise un large éventail de positions stratégiques et tactiques, y compris l'arbitrage sur les marchés des changes, des taux d'intérêt et du crédit, en réunissant un portefeuille très diversifié.

Le gestionnaire des investissements des deux Compartiments est Amundi (UK) Limited.

Les frais directement imputés à Amundi Funds Global Total Return Bond s'élèvent à EUR 1,322,392, ce qui est résumé dans le tableau ci-dessous et exprimé en pourcentage de la VNI moyenne des classes de parts d'Amundi Funds Global Total Return Bond :

Les frais imputés indirectement par l'intermédiaire des frais cumulés dans le fonds maître (classe OR-D) s'élevaient à EUR 126,796.36, soit 0.25% de la VNI moyenne du fonds maître (classe OR-D) Amundi Oblig Internationales.

Le rapport annuel et le rapport semestriel du fonds maître sont disponibles sur demande auprès du siège social du Fonds.

Par ailleurs, Amundi Funds Global Total Return Bond supporte indirectement les frais des fonds sous-jacents détenus dans le fonds maître.

Amundi Funds Target Coupon

Le Compartiment Amundi Funds Target Coupon a pour objectif la croissance combinée du capital et des revenus (rendement total). En particulier, le Compartiment investit à titre de fonds nourricier dans Amundi Revenus (fonds maître). Le fonds maître, et par conséquent le Compartiment, sont des produits financiers qui promeuvent les caractéristiques ESG conformément à l'Article 8 du Règlement sur la publication d'informations.

Le fonds maître investit principalement dans tout type de titres de créance (instruments du marché monétaire et obligataire) émis par des gouvernements et des sociétés du monde entier et libellés dans l'une des devises de l'OCDE, en diversifiant les devises et marchés des actions.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit au moins 85% de ses actifs nets dans des parts du fonds maître (classe OR). Le Compartiment peut investir jusqu'à 15% dans des dépôts et produits dérivés utilisés uniquement à des fins de couverture.

Amundi Revenus est un FCP de droit français éligible en qualité de fonds maître au titre de la Directive 2009/65/CE.

Le fonds maître investit au moins 70% de ses actifs nets dans des titres de créance. Le fonds maître peut investir dans

- des titres obligataires dont la note est inférieure à l'« investment-grade » (obligations à haut rendement),
- des titres obligataires de sociétés subordonnés (y compris des obligations convertibles contingentes à hauteur de 50% des actifs nets) et
- jusqu'à 20% de ses actifs nets dans des titres adossés à des créances hypothécaires (MBS) et des titres adossés à des actifs (ABS).

Le fonds maître pourra également investir dans des actions de sociétés du monde entier, quels que soient leurs secteurs et capitalisations boursières. L'exposition du fonds maître au marché des actions pourra varier dans une fourchette comprise entre 0% et 20% des actifs nets, et son exposition au marché des changes entre 0% et 100% des actifs nets.

Le fonds maître pourra investir jusqu'à 10 % de ses actifs nets dans des OPC/OPCVM.

Le fonds maître a largement recours à des produits dérivés pour réduire différents risques, à des fins de gestion efficace du portefeuille et pour obtenir une exposition (longue ou courte) à divers actifs, marchés ou autres opportunités d'investissement (notamment les produits dérivés ciblant le crédit).

Le fonds maître pourra souscrire des opérations d'achat et de vente de titres de nature temporaire (contrats de pension livrée et de pension inversée sur titres).

Le montant des revenus distribués sera fixé chaque année par la société de gestion du fonds maître, en fonction des rendements prévus des actifs du portefeuille. La performance du fonds maître n'est comparée à aucun indice particulier.

L'équipe d'investissement du fonds maître vise à exploiter des primes de rendement d'un large univers de placement (principalement des obligations), en utilisant une approche de gestion flexible et basée sur des choix de forte conviction. Elle étudie le taux d'intérêt et les tendances économiques (méthode descendante) pour identifier les stratégies et catégories d'actifs les plus à même d'offrir le meilleur rapport entre le risque et le rendement. L'équipe d'investissement s'appuie ensuite sur son analyse technique et en profondeur, y compris du crédit et de la prime de risque, pour sélectionner des titres en fonction de leur potentiel de génération de revenus (méthode ascendante) et pour constituer un portefeuille très diversifié au rendement régulier.

Par ailleurs, le fonds maître cherche à obtenir pour son portefeuille une note ESG qui soit supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement.

Le gestionnaire des investissements des deux Compartiments est Amundi Asset Management.

Les frais directement imputés à Amundi Funds Target Coupon s'élevaient à EUR 1,038,617, ce qui est résumé dans le tableau ci-dessous et exprimé en pourcentage de la VNI moyenne des classes de parts d'Amundi Funds Target Coupon :

Amundi Funds Montpensier Great European Models SRI

Le Compartiment Amundi Funds Montpensier Great European Models SRI a pour objectif la croissance du capital sur la période de détention recommandée, à travers des Investissements durables, conformément à l'Article 9 du Règlement sur la publication d'informations. En particulier, le Compartiment investit en tant que fonds nourricier dans le fonds Montpensier GREAT EUROPEAN MODELS SRI (fonds maître), qui vise la surperformance de son indice de référence, l'indice Stoxx Europe 600 (SXXR).

Le fonds maître investit principalement dans des actions européennes et des instruments liés à des actions.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit au moins 85% de ses actifs nets dans des parts du fonds maître (classe Y).

Le fonds maître est une SICAV de droit français éligible en qualité de fonds maître au titre de la Directive 2009/65/CE.

Le fonds maître intègre des facteurs de durabilité à son processus d'investissement, comme exposé plus en détail dans le Code de transparence disponible sur la page dédiée au fonds sur le site Internet de la société de gestion, www.montpensier.com.

Le portefeuille du fonds maître comporte une exposition minimale de 60% aux actions des pays de l'Union européenne. Les placements en titres éligibles au Plan d'Épargne Action représenteront un minimum de 75% des actifs.

Dans l'exécution des politiques susmentionnées, le Compartiment pourra également avoir

- une exposition maximale de 30% de ses actifs aux actions de pays européens non membres de l'Espace économique européen ;
- une exposition maximale de 10% de ses actifs aux actions de marchés émergents, telle que définie par le fonds maître ;
- une exposition maximale de 10% de ses actifs aux actions de marchés extérieurs à l'Europe ;
- une exposition maximale au risque de taux d'intérêt de 40% des actifs nets, avec un maximum de 20% des actifs en obligations et 10% en instruments du marché monétaire ;
- une exposition maximale de 10% des actifs nets à des dépôts ;
- une exposition maximale de 10% des actifs nets à des OPCVM/OPC.

Les investissements en actions de petites capitalisations seront limités à 20% des actifs.

Il n'existe pas de contraintes en termes d'allocation sectorielle, d'allocation géographique en Europe, de devise ou de notation pour ces investissements.

Le fonds maître pourra comporter un risque de change limité à 30% de ses actifs nets, en excluant l'euro ou d'autres devises de l'Espace économique européen.

Le fonds maître pourra avoir recours à des produits dérivés pour réduire différents risques et pour obtenir une exposition (longue ou courte) à divers actifs, marchés ou autres opportunités d'investissement (notamment les produits dérivés ciblant les actions).

L'indice Stoxx Europe 600 (SXXR) sert d'indicateur a posteriori pour évaluer la performance du Compartiment.

Le fonds maître est géré de façon active et il n'existe aucune contrainte liée à l'indice Stoxx Europe 600 (SXXR) en matière de construction du portefeuille.

L'approche extra-financière mise en œuvre est décrite dans le Code de transparence de la SICAV disponible sur le site Internet du gestionnaire des investissements du fonds maître. Elle repose sur l'intégration de critères extra-financiers dès la définition de l'univers d'investissement, via un processus d'exclusion visant à réduire cet univers d'investissement initial d'au moins 20 %, conformément aux dispositions du label ISR. De plus, toutes les actions du portefeuille sont analysées conformément à une double approche ESG et fondamentale, le label ISR exigeant au minimum que 90% de ces titres soient analysés selon l'approche ESG.

L'approche extra-financière s'applique en accord avec un objectif de réduction des risques en termes de durabilité.

Les Gestionnaires des investissements des Compartiments sont Amundi Asset Management (fonds nourricier) et Montpensier Finance (fonds maître).

Amundi Funds Montpensier M Climate Solutions

Le Compartiment Amundi Funds Montpensier M Climate Solutions a pour objectif la croissance du capital sur la période de détention recommandée, à travers des Investissements durables, conformément à l'Article 9 du Règlement sur la publication d'informations.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit en tant que fonds nourricier dans le fonds Montpensier M Climate Solutions, dont l'objectif est de profiter du développement des marchés d'actions mondiaux en investissant principalement dans les actions de sociétés dont les initiatives ou les solutions contribuent directement ou indirectement à réduire les conséquences du changement climatique, ou dans les actions de sociétés dont une partie de l'activité concerne des tendances et des évolutions liées au thème de la transition énergétique et climatique.

Le fonds maître investit principalement dans des actions du monde entier.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit au moins 85% de ses actifs nets dans des parts du fonds maître (classe Y).

Le fonds maître est un FCP de droit français éligible en qualité de fonds maître au titre de la Directive 2009/65/CE.

Le fonds maître investit au minimum 75% de ses actifs nets dans des actions et instruments similaires (tels que les certificats d'investissement et les obligations convertibles) de sociétés du monde entier, dans tous les secteurs et toutes les zones géographiques, notamment un maximum de 40% des actifs sur les marchés émergents.

Les instruments équivalant à des actions pourront représenter jusqu'à 25% des actifs nets. Il n'existe pas de contraintes en termes de capitalisation boursière pour ces investissements.

Dans l'exécution des politiques susmentionnées, le Compartiment pourra également :

- inclure une exposition maximale au risque de taux d'intérêt de 40% des actifs nets, avec un maximum de 25% des actifs en obligations et 10% en instruments du marché monétaire ;
- investir un maximum de 10% des actifs nets dans des OPCVM/OPC ; et
- disposer de dépôts allant jusqu'à 10% de ses actifs nets.

Il n'existe pas de contraintes en termes de notation ou de devise pour ces investissements.

Le fonds maître a recours à des produits dérivés pour réduire différents risques et pour obtenir une exposition (longue ou courte) à divers actifs, marchés ou autres opportunités d'investissement (notamment les produits dérivés ciblant le crédit et les actions).

Le fonds maître est géré de manière active.

La référence à un indice sert uniquement à des fins de comparaison ultérieure.

L'indice Stoxx Global 1800 (SXW1R) sert d'indicateur a posteriori pour évaluer la performance du Compartiment.

La stratégie de gestion du fonds maître suit une approche double afin d'identifier les titres de la manière suivante :

- sélection de titres selon des critères non financiers dans le but d'identifier l'implication des sociétés dans la transition énergétique et écologique pour le climat. Certaines activités, telles que l'énergie nucléaire et les combustibles fossiles, seront exclues ;
- complétée par une analyse fondamentale, elle-même soutenue par une étude quantitative basée sur des ratios financiers.

Les Gestionnaires des investissements des Compartiments sont Amundi Asset Management (fonds nourricier) et Montpensier Finance (fonds maître).

Les frais directement imputés à Amundi Funds Montpensier M Climate Solutions s'élèvent à EUR 623,012, ce qui est résumé dans le tableau ci-dessous et exprimé en pourcentage de la VNI moyenne des classes de parts d'Amundi Funds Montpensier M Climate Solutions :

Amundi Funds Impact Green Bonds

Le Compartiment Amundi Funds Impact Green Bonds a pour objectif la croissance combinée du capital et des revenus (rendement total) sur la période de détention recommandée, à travers des Investissements durables, conformément à l'Article 9 du Règlement sur la publication d'informations.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit en tant que fonds nourricier dans le fonds Amundi Responsible Investing - Impact Green Bonds (fonds maître), dont l'objectif est d'atteindre une performance liée à des Investissements durables, conformément à l'Article 9 du Règlement sur la publication d'informations, en investissant dans des obligations vertes dont l'impact sur l'environnement est positif, évalué à partir de l'estimation des émissions de gaz à effet de serre évitées, en utilisant comme indicateur les tonnes équivalent CO2 (tCO2e) évitées.

Le fonds maître investit principalement dans des obligations vertes de l'OCDE notées « Investment grade », émises par tout émetteur dans le monde entier et libellées dans toute devise.

L'exposition aux devises autres que l'euro est limitée à 10% des actifs nets.

En particulier, le Compartiment investit au moins 85% de ses actifs nets dans des parts du fonds maître (classe OR-D).

Le fonds maître Impact Green Bonds est un Compartiment de la SICAV Amundi Responsible Investing de droit français et est éligible en qualité de fonds maître au titre de la Directive 2009/65/CE.

Le fonds maître pourra investir un maximum de 100% de ses actifs nets dans tous les types d'obligations vertes suivantes, négociées sur un marché réglementé et émises par des gouvernements, des organisations supranationales ainsi que des sociétés privées ou publiques du monde entier, y compris un maximum de 15% des actifs sur les marchés émergents :

- obligations à taux fixe ou variable ;
- obligations indexées : inflation, TEC (Taux à l'échéance constante) ;
- titres subordonnés émis par tout type de banque, société ou compagnie d'assurance ;
- titres adossés à des actifs (ABS) et titres adossés à des créances hypothécaires (MBS) jusqu'à un maximum de 10% des actifs nets.

Le fonds maître investira un minimum de 50% des actifs nets dans des obligations vertes provenant d'émetteurs qui présentent une notation ESG comprise entre A et D.

Au minimum 90% des titres détenus dans le portefeuille sont soumis à une analyse non financière.

Le fonds maître pourra investir un maximum de 15% de ses actifs nets dans des titres non notés ou ayant une notation inférieure à « Investment grade ».

Le risque de change sera couvert à hauteur d'une exposition totale aux devises autres que l'euro de 10% des actifs nets.

Dans l'exécution des politiques susmentionnées, le fonds maître pourra également investir :

- au maximum 30% de ses actifs nets dans des instruments du marché monétaire ;
- au maximum 10% des actifs nets dans des OPCVM/OPC ;
- dans des dépôts.

Le fonds maître a recours à des produits dérivés pour réduire différents risques, à des fins de gestion efficace du portefeuille et pour obtenir une exposition (longue ou courte) à divers actifs, marchés ou autres opportunités d'investissement (notamment les produits dérivés ciblant les taux d'intérêt, le crédit et le taux de change).

Le fonds maître est géré de manière active. L'indice Barclays MSCI Global Green Bond (coupons réinvestis), couvert en euros (l'« Indice ») sert d'indicateur a posteriori pour évaluer la performance du fonds maître.

Il n'existe aucune contrainte liée à l'Indice en matière de construction du portefeuille.

L'investissement durable du fonds maître est principalement axé sur des objectifs environnementaux, en investissant dans les « obligations vertes » qui financent les projets éligibles (i) répondant aux critères et aux lignes directrices des Principes pour les obligations vertes (tels que publiés par l'ICMA) et (ii) pour lesquels l'impact positif sur la transition énergétique et l'environnement des projets financés peut être évalué.

Le Gestionnaire des investissements des deux Compartiments est Amundi Asset Management.

22 FRAIS DE RÉCEPTION ET TRANSMISSION DES ORDRES

Les frais de réception et transmission des ordres sont :

- versés à Amundi Intermediation ou à Amundi (UK) Ltd, pour leurs services rendus aux Compartiments gérés par Amundi, services comprenant la centralisation et la meilleure exécution possible des ordres ;
- comptabilisés chaque jour et versés trimestriellement sur la base des opérations traitées par les parties liées à Amundi.

Par rapport à un gestionnaire des investissements négociant des opérations seul, la centralisation des ordres permet notamment de négocier de meilleurs prix auprès des courtiers grâce à l'effet de volume, d'avoir accès à un plus grand nombre de courtiers et à une meilleure information sur les marchés, de bénéficier de l'expertise d'experts en trading et de contrôleurs du trading dédiés.

Ces frais sont comptabilisés à la rubrique « Frais de réception et transmission des ordres » dans l'État des opérations et des variations des actifs nets.

23 OPÉRATIONS AVEC DES PARTIES LIÉES

Les parties liées, en leur qualité de courtiers, peuvent aussi effectuer des opérations ou investir dans des devises ou autres produits financiers pour le compte de chaque Compartiment pour lequel les parties liées agissent en tant que courtier, pour leur propre compte ou en tant que contrepartie pour leurs clients, y compris dans le cas où les parties liées ou leurs clients ont la possibilité d'effectuer des opérations pour leur compte propre en même temps que pour le compte de chaque Compartiment. Les opérations telles que figurent dans le tableau ont été souscrites dans le cadre ordinaire des affaires et dans des conditions normales de concurrence.

Le Fonds considère que les commissions, majorations et réductions appliquées par les parties liées seront compétitives, bien que les parties liées aient un intérêt à obtenir des taux de commission favorables, ainsi que des majorations et réductions pour chaque Compartiment.

Au cours de l'exercice, des transactions pour un montant total de EUR 25,679,984,206.22, soit 13.06% de l'ensemble des transactions réalisées sur l'année, ont été effectuées par ces parties liées.

Pendant l'exercice se terminant le 30 juin 2023, Amundi Funds a effectué des opérations avec des parties liées pour un montant de :

26 SWING PRICING

Si, lors d'un Jour d'évaluation, la négociation des actions d'un Compartiment semble devoir nécessiter des achats ou ventes importants d'investissements en portefeuille, le Conseil d'administration peut ajuster la VNI du Compartiment de manière à mieux refléter les prix réels des transactions sous-jacentes, sur la base d'estimations des écarts et des frais des opérations ainsi que d'autres considérations relatives aux marchés et à la négociation. D'une manière générale, il révisé la VNI à la hausse quand la demande d'actions du Compartiment est élevée, et à la baisse quand les demandes de rachat sont nombreuses. Cet ajustement s'applique à toutes les transactions d'un Compartiment un jour donné, lorsque les demandes nettes dépassent un certain seuil défini par le Conseil d'administration. Ces ajustements ont pour objectif de protéger les Actionnaires à long terme de la SICAV des coûts liés aux opérations de souscription et de rachat et non de répondre à la situation particulière de chaque investisseur individuel. D'une manière générale, pour un Jour d'évaluation quelconque, l'ajustement ne dépasse pas les 2% de la VNI, mais le Conseil d'administration peut aller au-delà si la protection des intérêts des actionnaires l'exige.

Les montants d'ajustement enregistrés pour la période se terminant au 30 juin 2023 sont comptabilisés dans la rubrique « État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net » au poste « souscriptions/rachats nets ».

27 TITRES RUSSES

Suite à l'invasion de l'Ukraine par la Russie du 24 février 2022 et de son impact sur les marchés et titres russes, le Conseil d'administration et la Société de gestion ont décidé dès la fin du mois de février de réviser continuellement la situation des actions (y compris les certificats ADR/GDR) et obligations russes et de les évaluer à leur juste valeur.

L'évaluation à la juste valeur prend en compte les régimes de sanctions en vigueur et leur impact sur la négociabilité et le processus de règlement des titres concernés. À l'heure de la rédaction du présent rapport, le processus d'évaluation des titres à leur juste valeur est toujours en place.

Une liste des titres évalués à leur juste valeur au 30 juin 2023 est donnée ci-dessous :

Rapport du réviseur d'entreprises agréé

À l'intention des actionnaires de Amundi Funds

Opinion

À notre avis, les présents états financiers donnent une image juste et fidèle de la situation financière d'Amundi Funds (le « Fonds ») et de chacun de ses compartiments au 30 juin 2023, et des résultats des opérations et des variations de l'actif net pour l'exercice clôturé à cette même date, conformément aux prescriptions légales et réglementaires relatives à l'établissement et à la présentation des états financiers au Luxembourg.

Éléments couverts par l'audit

Les états financiers du Fonds comprennent les éléments suivants :

- l'état de l'actif net au vendredi 30 juin 2023 ;
- le portefeuille de titres au 30 juin 2023 ;
- l'état des opérations et des variations de l'actif net pour l'exercice clôturé à la même date ; et
- les notes aux états financiers, qui incluent un résumé des principales conventions comptables.

Base de l'opinion

Nous avons réalisé notre audit conformément à la Loi du 23 juillet 2016 relative à la profession de l'audit (Loi du 23 juillet 2016) et aux normes internationales d'audit (ISA) telles qu'adoptées pour le Luxembourg par la Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (CSSF). Nos responsabilités en vertu de la Loi du 23 juillet 2016 et des ISA telles qu'adoptées pour le Luxembourg par la CSSF sont décrites plus en détail dans la section « Responsabilités du réviseur d'entreprises agréé pour l'audit des états financiers » de notre rapport.

Nous estimons que les éléments probants recueillis sont suffisants et appropriés pour fonder notre opinion.

Nous sommes indépendants du Fonds, conformément au code de déontologie international de l'International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants pour les comptables professionnels incluant les normes internationales en matière d'indépendance (Code de l'IESBA), tel qu'adopté par la CSSF pour le Luxembourg avec les exigences opportunes en matière de déontologie dans le cadre de notre audit des états financiers. Nous avons assumé nos responsabilités en termes de déontologie en vertu de telles exigences.

Nous attirons l'attention sur la note 1 des présents états financiers, qui indique que le Conseil d'administration du Fonds a décidé de suspendre le calcul de la valeur nette d'inventaire, ainsi que l'émission, le rachat et la conversion des actions des compartiments Russian Equity à compter du 28 février 2022 et Emerging Europe Middle East and Africa (anciennement Emerging Europe and Mediterranean Equity) à compter du 1er mars 2022, en conséquence des tensions géopolitiques actuelles et des sanctions imposées à la Russie, qui ont rendu impossible la négociation ou l'évaluation de la majorité des actifs de ces compartiments.

En date du 11 avril 2023, les actifs russes détenus par le compartiment Emerging Europe Middle East and Africa (anciennement Emerging Europe and Mediterranean Equity) ont été séparés des actifs liquides au sein du compartiment et alloués à une nouvelle classe d'actions dans le but de les réaliser, et ce dans l'intérêt des actionnaires. Le calcul de la valeur nette d'inventaire, ainsi que l'émission, le rachat et la conversion des actions des autres classes d'actions ont repris le 11 avril 2023. Notre opinion n'a pas varié à ce sujet.

Autres informations

Le Conseil d'administration du Fonds a la responsabilité des autres informations. Les autres informations comprennent celles qui sont précisées dans le rapport annuel, mais ne couvrent pas les états financiers ni notre rapport du réviseur d'entreprises agréé concernant ceux-ci.

Notre opinion sur les états financiers ne couvre pas les autres informations et nous n'exprimons aucun type de conclusion assortie d'une assurance à leur sujet.

Dans le cadre de notre contrôle des états financiers, notre responsabilité consiste à lire les autres informations identifiées ci-dessus et, ce faisant, à évaluer si de telles informations sont substantiellement incohérentes avec les états financiers ou les connaissances que nous avons acquises au cours de l'audit, ou si elles semblent de toute autre manière substantiellement erronées. Si, d'après nos travaux, nous arrivons à la conclusion que ces informations ont fait l'objet d'une inexactitude significative, nous avons l'obligation de le signaler. Nous n'avons rien à signaler à ce sujet.

Le Conseil d'administration du Fonds est responsable de l'établissement et de la présentation fidèle des états financiers, conformément aux prescriptions légales et réglementaires relatives à l'établissement et à la présentation des états financiers au Luxembourg. Cette responsabilité couvre également tout contrôle interne que le Conseil d'administration du Fonds jugerait nécessaire pour permettre la préparation d'états financiers exempts d'inexactitude significative, qu'elle résulte d'une fraude ou d'une erreur.

Lors de l'établissement des états financiers, le Conseil d'administration du Fonds est responsable de l'évaluation de la capacité du Fonds et de chacun de ses compartiments à poursuivre leur exploitation, en communiquant, le cas échéant, les points relatifs à la continuité de l'exploitation et en partant du postulat comptable de la continuité de l'exploitation, excepté si le Conseil d'administration du Fonds a l'intention ou n'a pas d'autre solution réaliste que de liquider le Fonds ou tout compartiment de celui-ci ou de cesser leurs activités.

Responsabilités du réviseur d'entreprises agréé pour l'audit des états financiers

Notre audit a pour objectif d'obtenir l'assurance raisonnable que les états financiers dans leur ensemble sont exempts de toute inexactitude significative, qu'elle soit conséquence d'une fraude ou d'une erreur, et d'émettre un rapport d'audit qui présente notre opinion. L'assurance raisonnable correspond à un niveau d'assurance élevé, mais ne saurait garantir qu'un audit mené conformément à la Loi du 23 juillet 2016 et aux ISA telles qu'adoptées pour le Luxembourg par la CSSF permettra toujours de détecter une inexactitude significative, si elle existe. Les inexactitudes peuvent découler de fraudes ou d'erreurs et sont considérées comme significatives si, à titre individuel ou collectif, elles peuvent raisonnablement être jugées susceptibles d'influencer les décisions économiques des utilisateurs prises sur la base de ces états financiers.

Dans le cadre d'un audit réalisé conformément à la Loi du 23 juillet 2016 et aux ISA telles qu'adoptées pour le Luxembourg par la CSSF, nous exerçons notre appréciation professionnelle et faisons preuve de scepticisme professionnel tout au long de l'audit. Notre mission couvre également les tâches suivantes :

- identifier et évaluer les risques d'inexactitude significative des états financiers, qu'elle soit conséquence d'une fraude ou d'une erreur, concevoir et suivre des procédures d'audit répondant à ces risques, et recueillir des éléments probants constituant une base suffisante et adéquate pour former notre opinion d'audit. Le risque de ne pas détecter une inexactitude significative découlant d'une fraude est plus élevé que dans le cas d'une inexactitude résultant d'une erreur, dans la mesure où la fraude implique la collusion, la falsification, des omissions intentionnelles, des assertions inexactes ou le contournement des contrôles internes ;
- obtenir une bonne compréhension des contrôles internes pertinents pour l'audit afin de définir des procédures d'audit adaptées à la situation, mais non dans le but d'exprimer une opinion sur l'efficacité des contrôles internes mis en place par le Fonds ;
- évaluer le caractère approprié des règles comptables utilisées et le caractère raisonnable des estimations comptables et autres communications effectuées par le Conseil d'administration du Fonds ;
- conclure sur la pertinence de l'utilisation par le Conseil d'administration du Fonds du postulat comptable de continuité de l'exploitation et, à partir des éléments probants recueillis, établir s'il existe des incertitudes importantes concernant des événements ou situations pouvant éveiller des doutes sur la capacité du Fonds ou de tout compartiment de celui-ci à poursuivre son exploitation. Si nous arrivons à la conclusion qu'il existe des incertitudes importantes, nous avons l'obligation d'attirer l'attention dans notre rapport d'audit sur les informations connexes dans les états financiers ou, si de telles informations ne sont pas adéquates, de modifier notre opinion. Nos conclusions reposent sur les éléments probants recueillis jusqu'à la date de notre rapport d'audit. Toutefois, des événements ou situations futurs pourraient amener le Fonds ou tout compartiment de celui-ci à mettre un terme à la continuité de leur exploitation ;
- évaluer la présentation générale, la structure et le contenu des états financiers, y compris les informations, et établir si les états financiers représentent les opérations et événements sous-jacents de manière à donner une image fidèle.

Nous communiquons avec les personnes chargées de la gouvernance concernant, entre autres, la portée et le calendrier prévus pour l'audit ainsi que les conclusions significatives de l'audit, notamment toute anomalie importante dans les contrôles internes que nous pourrions identifier au cours de l'audit.

Représentée par

Luxembourg, le 27 octobre 2023

Christophe Pittie

À l'intention des actionnaires d'Amundi Funds

Par les présentes, nous confirmons qu'à notre avis, la Société de gestion du Fonds a, dans tous les aspects significatifs, géré Amundi Funds conformément aux dispositions de la documentation légale du Fonds, dans sa version modifiée, pour l'exercice clôturé au 30 juin 2023.

Pour le compte et au nom de
CACEIS Bank Luxembourg S.A.

Si la législation l'exige, les avis aux actionnaires seront publiés au Mémorial luxembourgeois, dans le Luxemburger Wort et dans tout autre journal que les administrateurs détermineront.

Toutes les transactions sont bilatérales.

Pour chaque contrepartie et chaque compartiment, les positions en garantie sont suivies globalement pour tous les types d'instruments de gré à gré. Les espèces sont gérées dans leur ensemble. Le processus de gestion des investissements ne distingue pas spécifiquement les espèces reçues à titre de garantie des autres espèces.

Les rendements et coûts découlant des opérations de swaps de performance au cours de l'exercice clôturé au 30 juin 2023 sont inclus dans l'évaluation des swaps.

POLITIQUE ET PRATIQUES EN MATIÈRE DE RÉMUNÉRATION

La politique en matière de rémunération d'Amundi Luxembourg S.A. est conforme aux exigences détaillées dans la Directive européenne 2014/91/UE entrée en vigueur le 18 mars 2016 et transposée dans la Loi luxembourgeoise du 10 mai 2016. La politique en matière de rémunération repose sur le cadre régissant la rémunération du Groupe Amundi, et est revue chaque année et approuvée par le Conseil d'Amundi Luxembourg. La politique fait l'objet d'une révision indépendante par la fonction interne chargée de la Conformité. Dans les principales évolutions de la politique en matière de rémunération de 2022, un lien vers « Amundi Ambition 2025 » et par conséquent le risque en matière de critères ESG et de durabilité ont été ajoutés. Aucun changement important supplémentaire n'a été apporté à la politique en matière de rémunération adoptée pour les années précédentes. La politique applicable pour 2022 a été approuvée par le Conseil d'administration d'Amundi Luxembourg le 22 juin 2022. Le Comité de rémunération du Groupe Amundi revoit chaque année la politique en matière de rémunération du groupe. La révision de 2022 a eu lieu le 1er février 2022. Les objectifs de la politique et des pratiques en matière de rémunération sont conformes et favorables à une gestion des risques efficace et saine, en alignant la rémunération sur la performance et les risques à long terme afin d'éviter les conflits d'intérêts. Les composantes de rémunération fixe sont liées aux postes couverts, aux services professionnels réalisés et à l'étendue des responsabilités, reflétant le niveau de qualification, les niveaux de salaire du marché, l'expérience et les compétences requises pour chaque poste ainsi que le niveau d'excellence démontré. La rémunération variable est définie pour promouvoir un développement durable à long terme de la Société de gestion ainsi qu'un système de gestion des risques solide et efficace. Les indemnités de la rémunération variable tiennent compte de la performance de l'employé, de sa division opérationnelle et du Groupe Amundi dans son ensemble, et reposent sur des critères tant financiers que non financiers. Amundi Luxembourg S.A. et le Groupe Amundi ont défini tout le personnel identifié disposant d'une autorité ou d'une influence sur les fonds gérés par Amundi, et qui sont par conséquent susceptibles d'avoir un impact sur la performance ou sur le profil de risque des fonds.

■ MONTANTS ACCORDÉS À TITRE DE RÉMUNÉRATION

Amundi Luxembourg S.A., la Société de gestion, intervient au 31 décembre 2022 en tant que Société de gestion ou gestionnaire de FIA pour plusieurs OPCVM à compartiments multiples et distincts et divers FIA. La rémunération totale exprimée en euros versée par Amundi Luxembourg S.A. à son personnel pour l'année civile 2022 est la suivante :

	Nbre de bénéficiaires	Rémunération fixe	Rémunération variable	Total
Employés	97	8,867,445	1,732,476	10,599,921
Dont
- Personnel identifié	12	1,976,045	695,120	2,671,164
- Autres employés	85	6,891,400	1,037,357	7,928,757

Au 31/12/2022 et au 30/06/2023, la SICAV Amundi Funds représentait respectivement environ 36% et 35% du total des actifs nets sous gestion d'Amundi Luxembourg S.A. Les chiffres de la rémunération totale susmentionnés font référence à des activités concernant tous les fonds gérés.

Les employés d'Amundi Luxembourg S.A. et du Groupe Amundi qui sont nommés au Conseil d'administration de la Société de gestion et/ou du Fonds renoncent au droit de percevoir une quelconque rémunération liée à l'ensemble des fonds gérés.

Aucun employé de la Société de gestion ne peut recevoir de montants lui étant versés directement par les OPCVM ou les FIA gérés, y compris s'il s'agit d'intéressement aux plus-values et de commissions de performance.

RÈGLEMENT DISCLOSURE

Le 18 décembre 2019, le Conseil européen et le Parlement européen ont annoncé être parvenus à un accord politique concernant le Règlement Disclosure, cherchant ainsi à établir un cadre paneuropéen pour encourager l'investissement durable. Le Règlement Disclosure prévoit une approche harmonisée dans le respect de la publication d'informations en matière de durabilité à destination des investisseurs dans le secteur des services financiers de l'Espace économique européen.

Aux fins du Règlement Disclosure, la Société de gestion remplit les critères de « participant au marché financier », et chaque Compartiment est éligible en tant que « produit financier ». Pour plus de détails sur la façon dont un Compartiment répond aux exigences du Règlement Disclosure, reportez-vous au supplément du Compartiment concerné. Reportez-vous également à la section sur l'« Investissement durable » dans le Prospectus du Fonds et à la Politique d'Investissement responsable disponible à la page www.amundi.com. Comme exigé par l'Art.11 du Règlement Disclosure, le Fonds fait les déclarations suivantes : En vertu de sa politique d'Investissement responsable, Amundi a développé sa propre approche en matière de critères ESG. La notation ESG d'Amundi vise à mesurer les performances ESG d'un émetteur, c'est-à-dire sa capacité à anticiper et à gérer les Risques en matière de durabilité et les opportunités inhérentes à son secteur et à sa situation individuelle. En utilisant les notes ESG, les gestionnaires de portefeuille tiennent compte des Risques en matière de durabilité dans leurs décisions d'investissement. Amundi applique des politiques d'exclusion ciblées à toutes ses stratégies d'investissement actives en excluant les entreprises en contradiction avec la Politique d'investissement responsable, notamment celles qui ne respectent pas les conventions internationales, les cadres communs reconnus sur le plan international ou encore les réglementations nationales.

Ces Compartiments ont un objectif durable et sont donc classés comme relevant de l'article 9 en vertu du Règlement SFDR (Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 du Parlement européen et du Conseil du 27 novembre 2019 sur la publication d'informations en matière de durabilité dans le secteur des services financiers). Par conséquent, comme requis par l'Article 58 du RÈGLEMENT DÉLÉGUÉ (UE) 2022/1288 DE LA COMMISSION, des informations détaillées sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont disponibles en annexe au présent rapport.

Cette annexe contient des informations concernant :

- la réalisation de l'objectif d'investissement durable du produit financier ;
- les principaux investissements, l'allocation d'actifs et la proportion des investissements dans les différents secteurs et sous-secteurs économiques ;
- les investissements durables.

Liste des Compartiments relevant de l'Article 9 au 30 juin 2023 :

Amundi Funds Montpensier Great European Models SRI
 Amundi Funds Montpensier M Climate Solutions
 Amundi Funds Euro Corporate Short Term Green Bond
 Amundi Funds Impact Green Bonds

■ Compartiments relevant de l'Article 8 (Art.11.1 requis)

Les Compartiments mentionnés ci-dessous sont classés comme relevant de l'Article 8 du Règlement Disclosure et visent à promouvoir des caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales. Outre le fait d'appliquer la Politique d'investissement responsable d'Amundi, ces Compartiments relevant de l'Article 8 ont pour objectif de promouvoir de telles caractéristiques à travers des investissements découlant sur une note ESG des portefeuilles supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence ou de l'univers d'investissement correspondant. La note du portefeuille ESG est la moyenne pondérée des actifs sous gestion de la note ESG des émetteurs sur le modèle de notation ESG d'Amundi.

Au cours de l'exercice financier sous revue, le Gestionnaire des investissements a en permanence promu les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en appliquant les méthodologies susmentionnées.

■ Compartiments relevant de l'Article 6

Étant donné l'orientation en matière d'investissement et les classes d'actifs/secteurs dans lesquels ils investissent, les gestionnaires des investissements de tous les autres Compartiments, non classés comme relevant de l'article 8 ou 9 du Règlement Disclosure, n'ont pas intégré de facteur d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental dans le processus d'investissement pour le Compartiment. Par conséquent, il convient de noter que les investissements à la base de ces Compartiments n'ont pas pris en compte les critères de l'UE concernant les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Objectif d'investissement durable

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

X

Oui

Non

X

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : 23.6% de l'actif net du fonds

X

X

X

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : 74.5% de l'actif net du fonds

et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de _____ d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Une société est identifiée comme durable par le gestionnaire d'actifs, par le biais de la méthodologie décrite dans la Politique ESG disponible sur le site Web montpensier.com. Une entreprise peut être impliquée dans plusieurs ODD. Elle est classée par la société de gestion comme durable sur le plan environnemental ou social en fonction de son implication dans l'ODD principal auquel la société de gestion l'a rattachée.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Le fonds intègre des facteurs de durabilité dans son processus d'investissement, comme indiqué plus en détail ci-dessous et dans le chapitre « Stratégie d'investissement » du Prospectus. Les critères ESG sont pris en compte par le fonds afin d'unifier la performance financière et le souhait d'influencer l'émetteur de manière positive, si possible, en matière de performance ESG, en encourageant les entreprises à améliorer l'intégration de critères ESG à leurs activités et en valorisant les bonnes pratiques.

L'empreinte carbone et l'intensité carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille restent considérablement inférieures à celles de l'indice. Cette performance est attribuable à notre forte sous-exposition aux combustibles fossiles. L'empreinte carbone et l'intensité carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille sont aussi considérablement inférieures à celles de l'indice en incluant les émissions de catégorie Scope 3 Tier 1.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Voir plus haut.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable ?

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

L'évaluation du principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (Do Not Significantly Harm, « DNSH ») repose sur des exclusions, les Principales incidences négatives (PAI) et la surveillance des controverses. De plus, les entreprises qui présentent une analyse d'impact environnemental ou social MIA (Montpensier Impact Assessment) négative ou qui sont des piliers environnementaux (E) ou sociaux (S), sont considérées comme dérogeant au principe DNSH.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Nous excluons de notre univers d'investissement les entreprises qui ne sont pas alignées sur certaines normes et conventions internationales, notamment le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (PMNU), les règles de l'Organisation internationale du travail (OIT) et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits de l'homme (UNGPBHR).

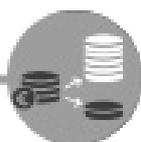

Les entreprises qui font l'objet d'une controverse de niveau « Rouge » sont exclues de l'univers d'investissement. Parmi ces controverses de niveau « Rouge » figurent des entreprises qui ne respectent pas le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (droits de l'homme, normes du travail, environnement et lutte contre la corruption).

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Nous tenons compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives dans notre analyse exclusive de la contribution des entreprises à la transition environnementale et à la transition solidaire (analyse d'impact « Montpensier Impact Assessment » ou MIA, et analyse de la contribution des entreprises par secteur « Montpensier Industry Contributor » ou MIC), et/ou des éco-activités, ce qui détermine la contribution à un ou plusieurs Objectifs de développement durable (ODD) de l'ONU. Ces indicateurs varient en fonction du secteur, de l'industrie et du domaine d'exploitation de l'entreprise.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

Les données relatives à l'implication dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie sont déterminées en tenant compte uniquement des données publiées par les entreprises.

Les données concernant l'implication des entreprises dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie ne sont pas encore disponibles.

À titre d'information, les actions d'entreprises identifiées comme impliquées dans des activités liées à l'énergie fossile et/ou nucléaire représentent 7.82% du portefeuille, soit 4.29% du portefeuille pour les actions d'entreprises tirant une partie de leur chiffre d'affaires de l'énergie nucléaire et 3.53% pour les actions d'entreprises impliquées dans l'énergie fossile.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines.

Le chiffre d'affaires est estimé par MSCI ESG Research conformément à la méthodologie décrite ci-dessous.

Les données de CapEx et OpEx ne prennent en compte que les données publiées par les entreprises.

L'alignement sur la taxinomie européenne est estimé par MSCI ESG Research, à partir du pourcentage maximal des revenus d'une entreprise découlant de produits et services répondant à des objectifs environnementaux, sur la base du cadre MSCI Sustainable Impact Metrics.

Les entreprises qui font l'objet d'une controverse environnementale de niveau « Rouge » ou « Orange », ou de controverses sociales ou de gouvernance de niveau « Rouge », ne respectent pas les principes de la taxinomie européenne consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » et à adopter des « garanties sociales minimales ». Par conséquent, le pourcentage du chiffre d'affaires correspondant aux produits et services qui atteignent les objectifs environnementaux est réduit à 0 pour ces entreprises. Le même principe s'applique aux producteurs de tabac, dont le chiffre d'affaires découle à hauteur de 5% ou plus de la fourniture, distribution ou vente au détail de produits issus du tabac, et aux entreprises impliquées dans les armes controversées.

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

 Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

La société de gestion a appliqué la politique décrite dans les informations précontractuelles pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 9, paragraphes 1 à 4a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 5, premier alinéa du Règlement (UE) 2020/852.

La politique en matière d'engagement des actionnaires de Montpensier Finance se compose d'une politique de vote et d'une politique d'engagement.

L'exercice de droits de vote est un élément important du dialogue avec les émetteurs. Il encourage les bonnes pratiques de gouvernance et promeut l'éthique professionnelle.

Montpensier Finance considère que l'exercice des droits de vote fait partie intégrante du processus de gestion des investissements et qu'il doit être effectué dans l'intérêt de ses clients. La politique en matière de droits de vote de Montpensier Finance vise la promotion de la valorisation à long terme de ses investissements dans le fonds.

Pour exercer les droits de vote attachés aux titres détenus par le fonds, les gestionnaires du fonds se réfèrent aux principes concernant les recommandations de gouvernance d'entreprise publiées par ISS Governance dans sa Politique de durabilité. ISS couvre toutes les entreprises détenues dans les portefeuilles des fonds gérés par Montpensier Finance.

Les réglementations en matière de gouvernance exigent aux gestionnaires de portefeuille d'exercer leurs fonctions de manière indépendante, en particulier concernant les émetteurs, et dans le strict intérêt des porteurs de parts ou actionnaires. Les gestionnaires de portefeuille sont particulièrement attentifs aux décisions susceptibles de nuire aux intérêts des porteurs de parts ou actionnaires. La politique complète en matière de vote ainsi que le dernier rapport sur l'exercice des droits de vote sont disponibles sur notre site Web.

Les équipes de gestion du fonds sont encouragées à soulever toute question qui se pose auprès des entreprises au cours des réunions, en particulier lorsque les problèmes en matière d'ESG ne sont pas suffisamment pris en compte, afin d'encourager ces entreprises à améliorer leurs pratiques concernant les questions environnementales, sociales et de gouvernance, qui constituent des facteurs de croissance durable.

Les gestionnaires du fonds, assistés par les analystes ISR, établiront une entente positive et constructive à moyen et long termes avec les entreprises détenues dans le portefeuille.

Cette entente comporte de multiples facettes :

- Contacts avec l'entreprise
- Communication des intentions de vote des gestionnaires du fonds à la société avant l'assemblée générale

Outre les initiatives d'engagement directes que nous menons généralement avec les petites et moyennes entreprises, Montpensier Finance participe également à des actions d'engagement par groupe mises en œuvre par ISS dans le cadre de son programme ISS ESG spécialement pour les grandes entreprises.

Ce dialogue est mis en place avec plusieurs objectifs :

- Encourager les entreprises à mettre en place un engagement ESG
- Encourager les entreprises à communiquer sur leurs pratiques ESG

La politique complète en matière d'engagement ainsi que le dernier rapport sur l'engagement sont disponibles sur notre site Web.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Le fonds intègre des facteurs de durabilité dans son processus d'investissement, comme indiqué plus en détail ci-dessous et dans le chapitre « Stratégie d'investissement » du Prospectus. Les critères ESG sont pris en compte par le fonds afin d'unifier la performance financière et le souhait d'influencer l'émetteur de manière positive, si possible, en matière de performance ESG, en encourageant les entreprises à améliorer l'intégration de critères ESG à leurs activités et en valorisant les bonnes pratiques.

100% du portefeuille investi à l'exclusion de la catégorie trésorerie et équivalents de trésorerie (soit 99.01% de l'actif net du fonds) sont constitués d'investissements durables.

L'empreinte carbone et l'intensité carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille restent considérablement inférieures à celles de l'indice. Cette performance est attribuable à notre forte sous-exposition aux combustibles fossiles.

L'empreinte carbone et l'intensité carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille sont aussi considérablement inférieures à celles de l'indice en incluant les émissions de catégorie Scope 3 Tier 1.

Les indicateurs de durabilité

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Voir plus haut.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable ?

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

L'évaluation du principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (Do Not Significantly Harm, « DNSH ») repose sur des exclusions, les Principales incidences négatives (PAI) et la surveillance des controverses. De plus, les entreprises qui présentent une analyse d'impact environnemental ou social MIA (Montpensier Impact Assessment) négative ou qui sont des piliers environnementaux (E) ou sociaux (S), sont considérées comme dérogeant au principe DNSH.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Nous excluons de notre univers d'investissement les entreprises qui ne sont pas alignées sur certaines normes et conventions internationales, notamment le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (PMNU), les règles de l'Organisation internationale du travail (OIT) et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits de l'homme (UNGPBHR).

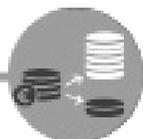

Les entreprises qui font l'objet d'une controverse de niveau « Rouge » sont exclues de l'univers d'investissement. Parmi ces controverses de niveau « Rouge » figurent des entreprises qui ne respectent pas le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (droits de l'homme, normes du travail, environnement et lutte contre la corruption).

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Nous tenons compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives dans notre analyse exclusive de la contribution des entreprises à la transition environnementale et à la transition solidaire (analyse d'impact « Montpensier Impact Assessment » ou MIA, et analyse de la contribution des entreprises par secteur « Montpensier Industry Contributor » ou MIC), et/ou des éco-activités, ce qui détermine la contribution à un ou plusieurs Objectifs de développement durable (ODD) de l'ONU. Ces indicateurs varient en fonction du secteur, de l'industrie et du domaine d'exploitation de l'entreprise.

Les équipes de gestion du fonds sont encouragées à soulever toute question qui se pose auprès des entreprises au cours des réunions, en particulier lorsque les problèmes en matière d'ESG ne sont pas suffisamment pris en compte, afin d'encourager ces entreprises à améliorer leurs pratiques concernant les questions environnementales, sociales et de gouvernance, qui constituent des facteurs de croissance durable.

Les gestionnaires du fonds, assistés par les analystes ISR, établiront une entente positive et constructive à moyen et long termes avec les entreprises détenues dans le portefeuille.

Cette entente comporte de multiples facettes :

- Contacts avec l'entreprise
- Communication des intentions de vote des gestionnaires du fonds à la société avant l'assemblée générale

Outre les initiatives d'engagement directes que nous menons généralement avec les petites et moyennes entreprises, Montpensier Finance participe également à des actions d'engagement par groupe mises en œuvre par ISS dans le cadre de son programme ISS ESG spécialement pour les grandes entreprises.

Ce dialogue est mis en place avec plusieurs objectifs :

- Encourager les entreprises à mettre en place un engagement ESG
- Encourager les entreprises à communiquer sur leurs pratiques ESG

La politique complète en matière d'engagement ainsi que le dernier rapport sur l'engagement sont disponibles sur notre site Web.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Dans quelles mesure l'objectif d'investissement durable de ce produit financier a-t-il été atteint ?

Le compartiment a maintenu la part prévue de son allocation investie dans l'utilisation d'obligations vertes.

L'objectif des obligations vertes consiste à financer les projets qui génèrent un impact sur l'environnement positif et quantifiable. L'indicateur clé mesurant l'impact des obligations vertes est le nombre de « Tonnes d'émissions de CO2 évitées par million d'euros investis en un an ». Au-delà de l'analyse financière quantitative et qualitative des obligations susceptibles de composer le portefeuille, le processus de sélection inclut une évaluation de la stratégie ESG au niveau de l'émetteur et une évaluation des obligations vertes suivant plusieurs points d'analyse :

1. Amundi a mis au point un système de notation ESG exclusif reposant sur une échelle de 7 lettres allant de A à G, où A correspond à la meilleure notation et G à la moins bonne notation. Tout émetteur assorti de la note G est exclu de tous les portefeuilles d'Amundi faisant l'objet d'une gestion active. Nous vérifions la notation ESG de l'émetteur et surveillons la conformité de la notation aux critères associés du fonds. Comme indiqué ci-dessus, les émetteurs ayant reçu la note G selon l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi ne sont pas éligibles à l'investissement. S'il existe des points faibles, l'équipe ESG Research effectuera une recherche de controverse plus détaillée concernant le pilier associé (E, S ou G).
2. L'évaluation des obligations vertes selon les critères suivants : (i) analyse du projet, via l'analyse de l'emplacement géographique des actifs, action sur les actifs, évaluation de tout impact supplémentaire du projet vert sur l'environnement, la biodiversité, les communautés locales ou autres aspects sociaux (principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important »), alignement sur les normes du secteur (par ex. alignement sur les principes des obligations vertes de l'International Capital Markets Association, l'initiative pour les obligations climat Climate Bond Initiative, la taxinomie de l'UE) ; (ii) analyse de l'émetteur aux niveaux de la stratégie ESG globale et de la controverse ; (iii) logique du financement vert (type de projets financés, allocation d'actifs verts, type d'instruments finançant les projets verts) ; et (iv) transparence (rapport sur les obligations vertes, existence d'évaluation par seconde partie)

Enfin, toutes les obligations vertes sélectionnées doivent respecter les critères et recommandations des principes des obligations vertes telles que publiées par l'International Capital Market Association. Veuillez consulter la Politique d'investissement responsable d'Amundi pour plus de renseignements sur ce qui précède.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.99 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.83 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

À la fin de la période, le portefeuille détient 95.01% d'obligations vertes.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires, qui reflète le caractère écologique actuel des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements, qui sont importants pour une transition vers une économie verte ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui

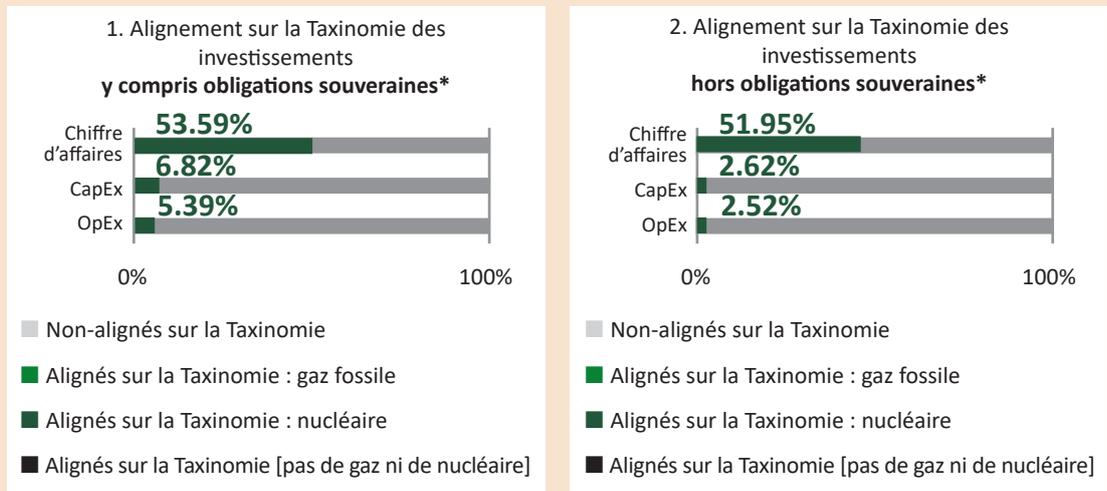

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en

matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et les instruments aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Dans quelles mesure l'objectif d'investissement durable de ce produit financier a-t-il été atteint ?

2. L'évaluation des obligations vertes selon les critères suivants : (i) analyse du projet, via l'analyse de l'emplacement géographique des actifs, action sur les actifs, évaluation de tout impact supplémentaire du projet vert sur l'environnement, la biodiversité, les communautés locales ou autres aspects sociaux (principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important »), alignement sur les normes du secteur (par ex. alignement sur les principes des obligations vertes de l'International Capital Markets Association, l'initiative pour les obligations climat Climate Bond Initiative, la taxinomie de l'UE) ; (ii) analyse de l'émetteur aux niveaux de la stratégie ESG globale et de la controverse ; (iii) logique du financement vert (type de projets financés, allocation d'actifs verts, type d'instruments finançant les projets verts) ; et (iv) transparence (rapport sur les obligations vertes, existence d'évaluation par seconde partie)

Enfin, toutes les obligations vertes sélectionnées doivent respecter les critères et recommandations des principes des obligations vertes telles que publiées par l'International Capital Market Association. Veuillez consulter la Politique d'investissement responsable d'Amundi pour plus de renseignements sur ce qui précède.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.14 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.97 (C).

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.

- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

À la fin de la période, le portefeuille détient 99.95% d'obligations vertes.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

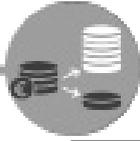

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires, qui reflète le caractère écologique actuel des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements, qui sont importants pour une transition vers une économie verte ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui

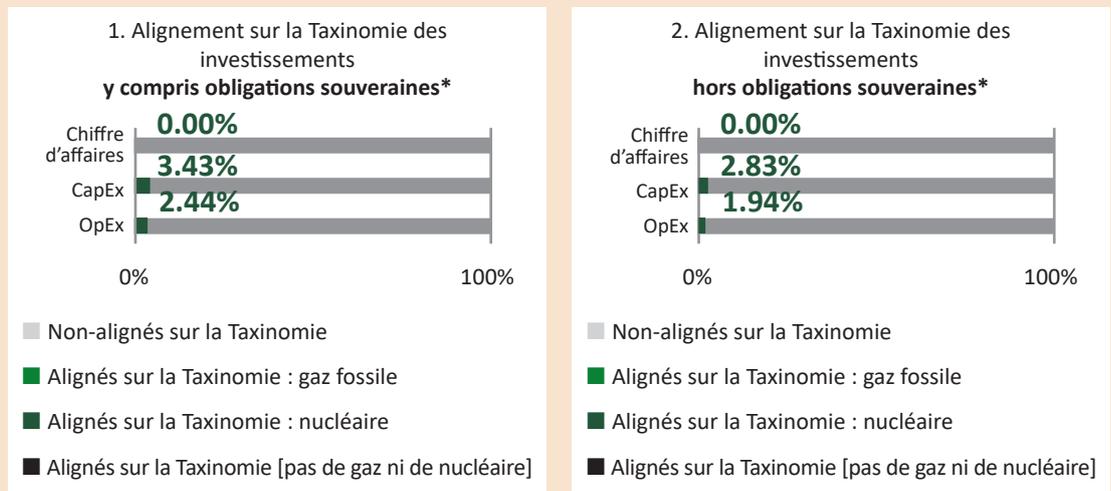

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 95.41% à la fin de la période.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en

matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et les instruments aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EMU. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.11 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 1.03 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » s'applique uniquement aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents à la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

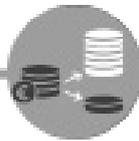

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

Les activités alignées sur la taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires, qui reflète le caractère écologique actuel des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements, qui sont importants pour une transition vers une économie verte ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 2.91% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

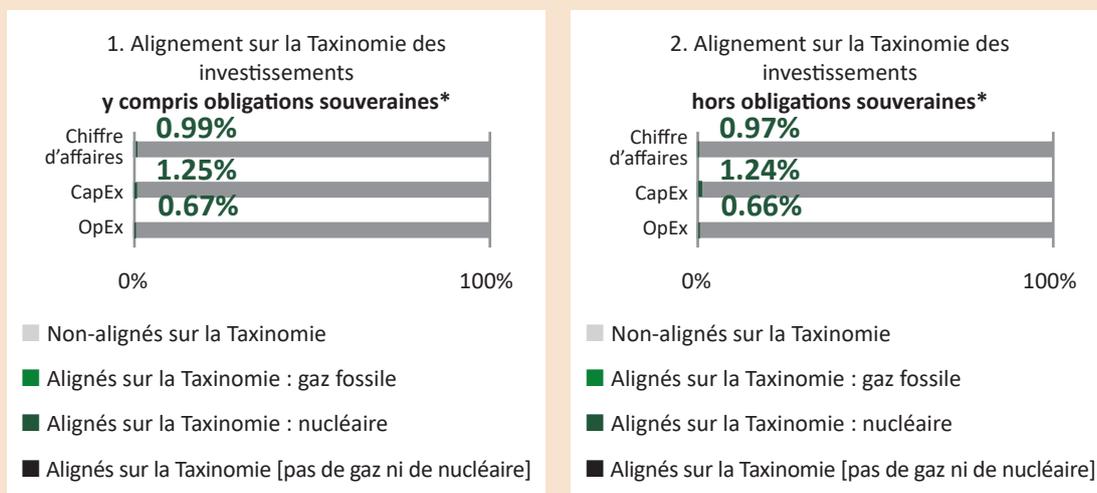

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 64.56% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 67.55% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EUROPE (15). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Le gestionnaire des investissements a concentré le processus de placement sur les entreprises/secteurs/pays ayant suivi une trajectoire positive en termes de critères ESG au sein de leur activité, ou prévoyant de suivre une telle trajectoire. Le gestionnaire des investissements a identifié des opportunités de placement alignées sur l'objectif de génération d'alpha en se concentrant en particulier sur l'inclusion des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui seront de solides gagnants en termes de critères ESG à l'avenir, qui présentent (ou présenteront) une amélioration favorable du profil ESG, tout en investissant également dans des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui sont actuellement des références en matière d'ESG.

Par ailleurs, le Compartiment a obtenu pour son portefeuille une note ESG qui est supérieure à celle de l'Indice de référence. Le Compartiment a été comparé à la note ESG de son Indice de référence après avoir exclu dudit Indice de référence 20% des titres présentant les notes ESG les plus faibles.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.19 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.80 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail.

En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

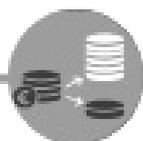

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 9.93% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Ce produit est qualifié de produit ISR (investissement socialement responsable). Au cours de l'exercice, il a cherché à promouvoir les 3 dimensions (environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance) en tenant compte de la notation ESG des émetteurs dans la construction du portefeuille.

L'objectif de la notation ESG des émetteurs est d'évaluer leur capacité à gérer l'incidence négative potentielle de leurs activités sur les facteurs de durabilité. Cette analyse a ainsi pour but d'évaluer leur comportement Environnemental et Social en termes de Gouvernance, en leur attribuant une note ESG comprise entre A (meilleure note) et G (moins bonne note), de manière à obtenir une évaluation plus globale des risques.

1. Le portefeuille a systématiquement appliqué la politique d'exclusion d'Amundi suivante :
 - Exclusions légales sur les armes controversées
 - Entreprises qui contreviennent de façon grave et répétée à un ou plusieurs des 10 principes du Pacte mondial de l'ONU sans appliquer de mesures correctives crédibles
 - Exclusions sectorielles du groupe Amundi sur le charbon et le tabac (les détails de cette politique étant disponibles dans la Politique d'investissement responsable d'Amundi consultable sur le site Web www.amundi.fr)
2. Aucun investissement n'a été réalisé auprès d'émetteurs ayant la note F ou G. Pour tout émetteur dont la notation a été revue à la baisse et ayant reçu la note F ou G, les titres déjà présents en portefeuille ont été vendus dans les délais convenus dans le prospectus et en tenant compte de l'intérêt financier des détenteurs.
3. La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est en permanence supérieure à la note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement du fonds après suppression de 20% des émetteurs les moins bien notés.
4. Le fonds a privilégié les émetteurs occupant une position de leader dans leur secteur d'activité d'après les critères ESG identifiés par l'équipe d'analystes extra-financiers de la société de gestion (approche « Best-in-class »). À l'exception des exclusions ci-dessus, tous les secteurs économiques sont représentés dans cette approche et l'OPC est par conséquent susceptible d'être exposé à certains secteurs controversés.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.91 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.60 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail.

En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 8.67% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires
 pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

Au 30/06/2023, en utilisant le chiffre d'affaires et/ou les données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes comme indicateur, la part d'investissements du fonds dans les activités transitoires était de 0.00% et la part d'investissements dans les activités habilitantes était de 0.00%.  sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 55.06% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

 Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

 Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI Europe (dividends reinvested) Index. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.13 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.76 (C).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs

fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 16.33% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

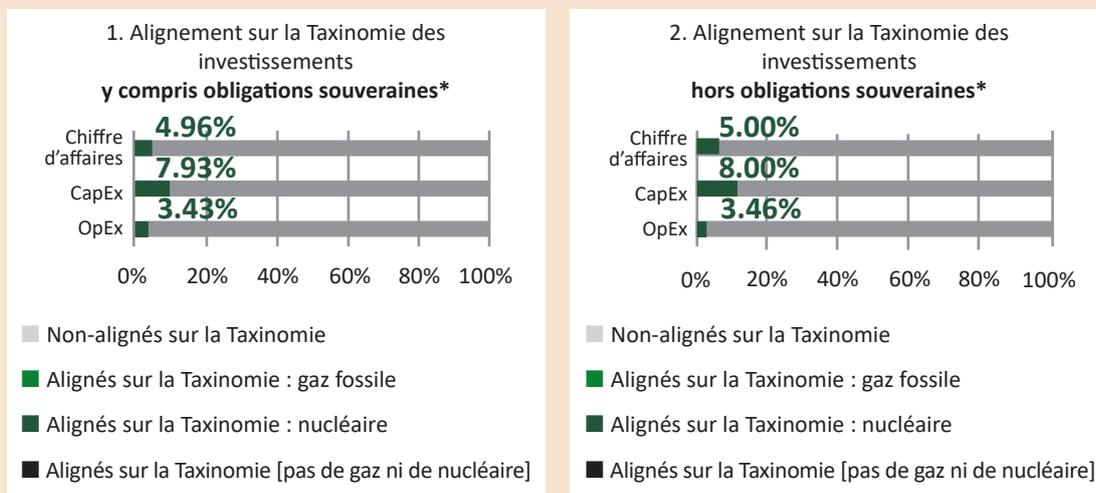

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 68.11% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EUROPE VALUE. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.03 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.70 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

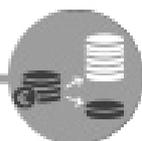

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 5.74% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

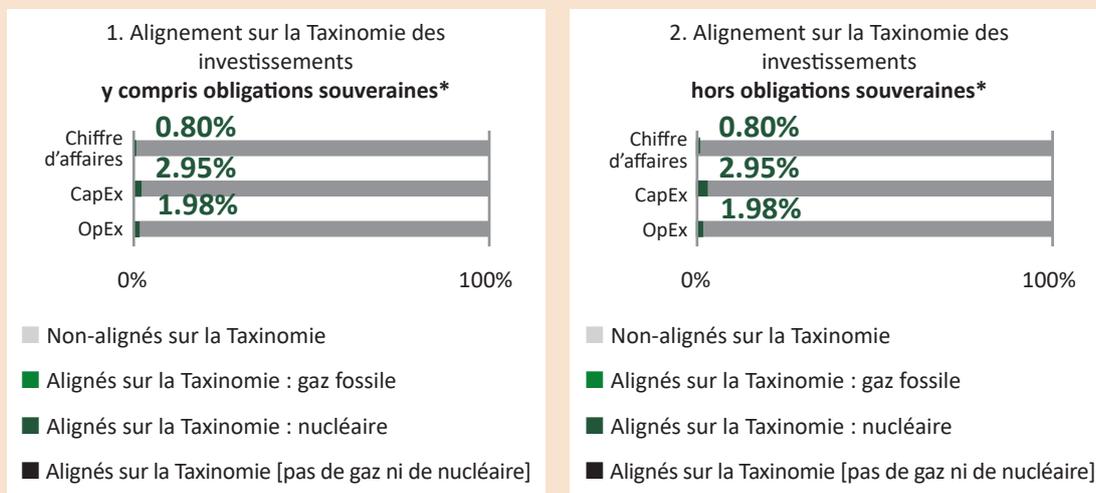

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 56.22% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Dénomination du produit : AMUNDI FUNDS EUROPEAN EQUITY SUSTAINABLE INCOME

Identifiant d'entité juridique : 549300L23KUMFUPDKS14

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EUROPE (15). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.13 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.80 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

 Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 4.11% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

● sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EUROPE (16) SMALL CAP. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.77 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.49 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

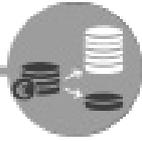

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 5.60% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

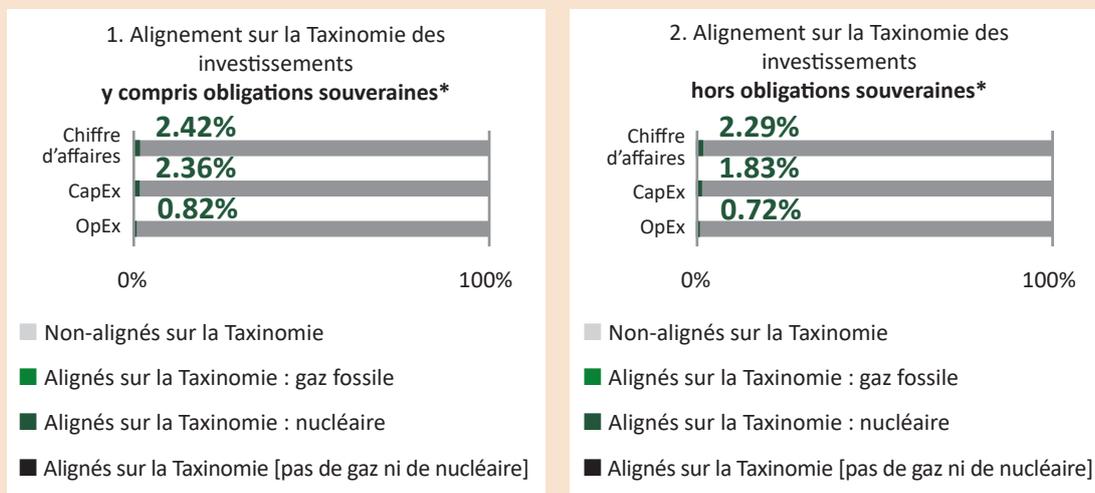

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 49.21% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement TOPIX. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.27 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.28 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

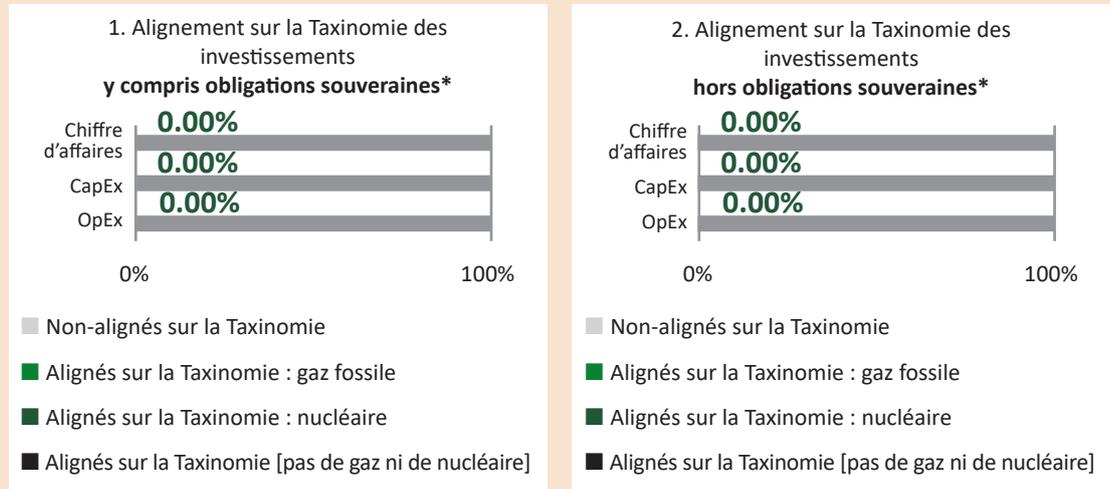

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 62.67% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI WORLD. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.69 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

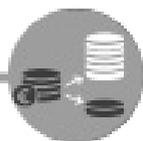

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 1.72% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

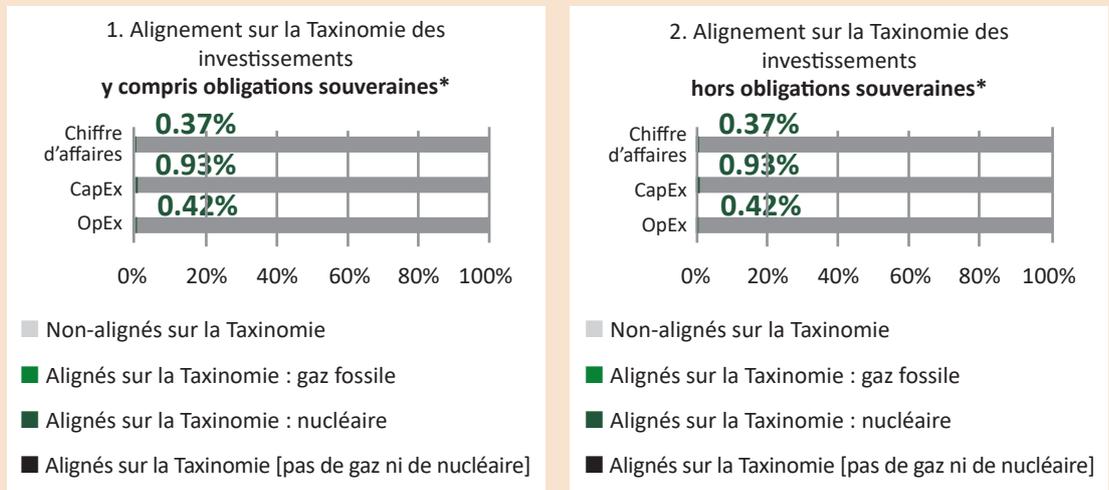

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI WORLD. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Le gestionnaire des investissements a concentré le processus de placement sur les entreprises/secteurs/pays ayant suivi une trajectoire positive en termes de critères ESG au sein de leur activité, ou prévoyant de suivre une telle trajectoire. Le gestionnaire des investissements a identifié des opportunités de placement alignées sur l'objectif de génération d'alpha en se concentrant en particulier sur l'inclusion des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui seront de solides gagnants en termes de critères ESG à l'avenir, qui présentent (ou présenteront) une amélioration favorable du profil ESG, tout en investissant également dans des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui sont actuellement des références en matière d'ESG.

Par ailleurs, le Compartiment a obtenu pour son portefeuille une note ESG qui est supérieure à celle de l'Indice de référence. Le Compartiment a été comparé à la note ESG de son Indice de référence après avoir exclu dudit Indice de référence 20% des titres présentant les notes ESG les plus faibles.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

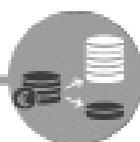

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).

- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.31% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

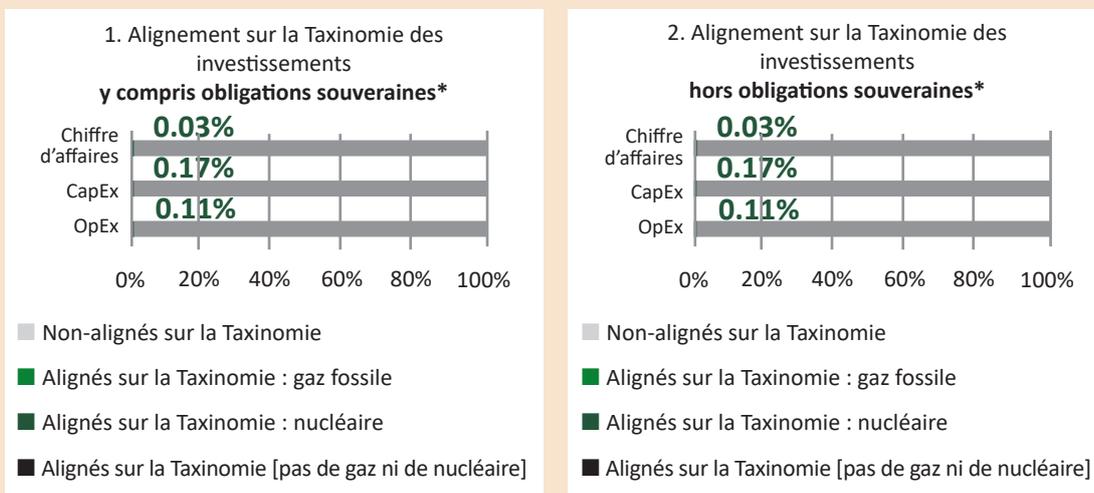

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Par investissement durable, on entend

un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE

est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI WORLD CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales en cherchant à réduire son intensité carbone à travers l'alignement de l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone sur celle de son Indice de référence MSCI WORLD CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.66 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.04 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

L'indicateur de durabilité utilisé est l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille, qui est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice de référence. Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible avaient une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 72.84
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 74.69

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il

existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

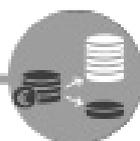

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).

- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

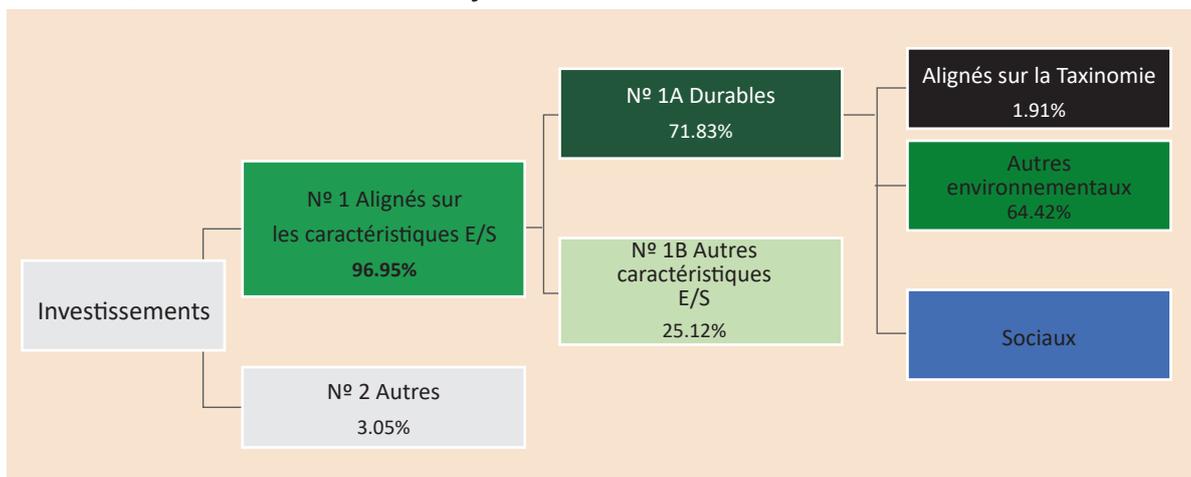

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Technologies de l'information	26.36%
Industrie	17.27%
Finance	15.45%
Santé	12.16%

Consommation discrétionnaire	11.27%
Matériaux	5.02%
Services de communication	4.10%
Biens de consommation de base	3.43%
Immobilier	1.89%
Services aux collectivités	1.00%
Liquidités	2.05%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 1.91% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 64.42% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence aligné sur Paris (« Paris Aligned ») qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 72.84
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 74.69

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

L'objectif d'investissement durable est atteint en alignant les objectifs de réduction de l'empreinte carbone du fonds sur l'indice MSCI World Climate Paris Aligned Net USD. L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice.

Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible ont une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée. De plus, le fonds exclut les entreprises sur la base d'un comportement controversé et/ou de produits controversés, conformément à la Politique d'investissement responsable.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 72.84
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 74.69

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence aligné sur Paris (« Paris Aligned ») qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI WORLD. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.71 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et

- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 3.30% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

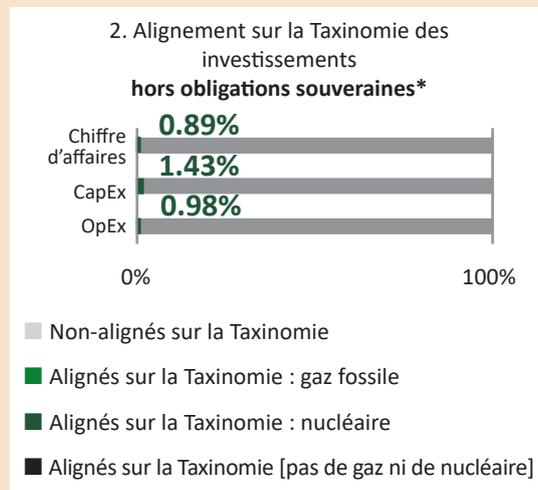

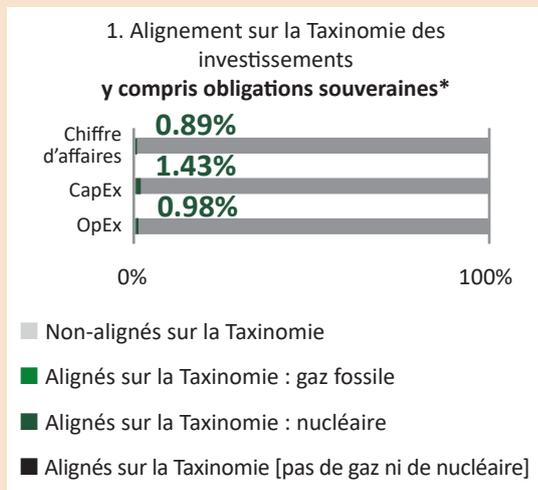

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 49.70% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement TOPIX. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.14 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.28 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

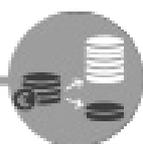

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Dénomination du produit : AMUNDI FUNDS PIONEER GLOBAL EQUITY

Identifiant d'entité juridique : 549300R5QSNNNJBY1T17

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui Non

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI ACWI. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.24 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

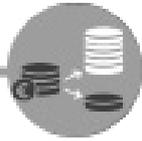

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Finance	19.12%
Technologies de l'information	14.18%
Santé	13.99%
Consommation discrétionnaire	12.83%
Industrie	11.01%

Liquidités	4.27%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.01% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

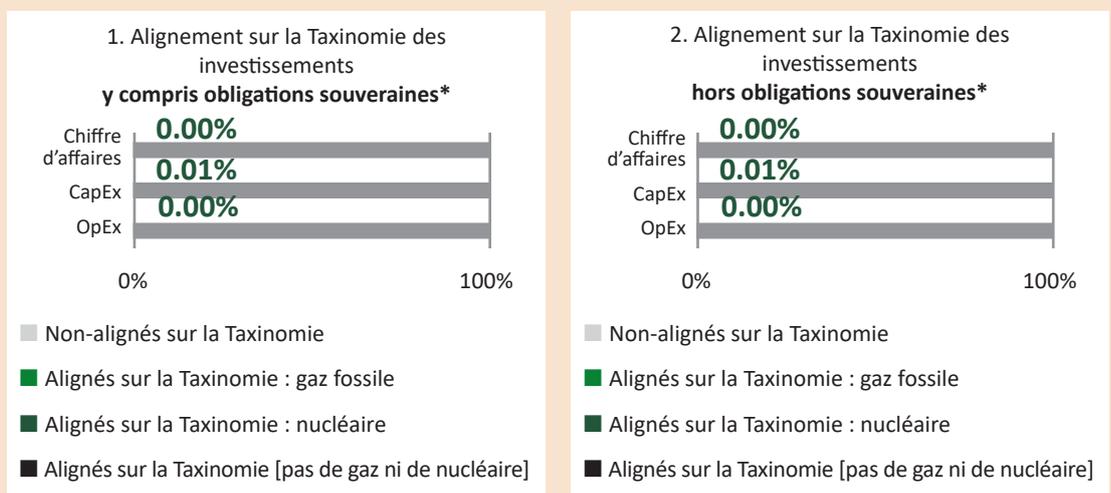

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 28.02% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement RUSSELL 1000 VALUE (FRC). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.13 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.39 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

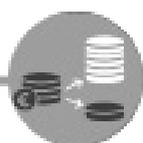

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
 Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères

en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Par investissement durable, on entend

un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE

est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement S&P 500 COMPOSITE. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Le gestionnaire des investissements a concentré le processus de placement sur les entreprises/secteurs/pays ayant suivi une trajectoire positive en termes de critères ESG au sein de leur activité, ou prévoyant de suivre une telle trajectoire. Le gestionnaire des investissements a identifié des opportunités de placement alignées sur l'objectif de génération d'alpha en se concentrant en particulier sur l'inclusion des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui seront de solides gagnants en termes de critères ESG à l'avenir, qui présentent (ou présenteront) une amélioration favorable du profil ESG, tout en investissant également dans des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui sont actuellement des références en matière d'ESG.

Par ailleurs, le Compartiment a obtenu pour son portefeuille une note ESG qui est supérieure à celle de l'Indice de référence. Le Compartiment a été comparé à la note ESG de son Indice de référence après avoir exclu dudit Indice de référence 20% des titres présentant les notes ESG les plus faibles.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.14 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.38 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

- Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

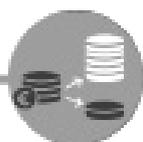

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Technologies de l'information	21.07%
Santé	17.45%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 29.82% à la fin de la période.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/>	Oui	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/>	X Non
<input type="checkbox"/> Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE <input type="checkbox"/> dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE <input type="checkbox"/> Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 27.28% d'investissements durables <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE <input type="checkbox"/> ayant un objectif social <input type="checkbox"/> Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement RUSSELL 1000 GROWTH. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.24 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.36 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

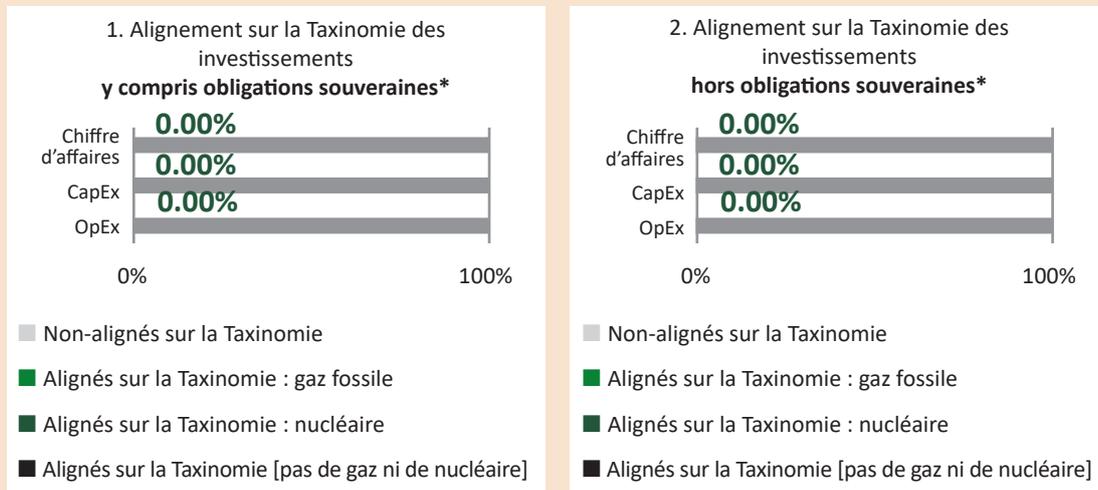

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 22.77% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement S&P 500 COMPOSITE. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.07 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.38 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

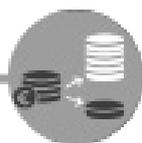

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement RUSSELL 1000 VALUE (FRC). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.02 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.39 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

● sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI ACWI. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Compartiment et de l'Indice de référence, la performance ESG a été évaluée en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport à celle du secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques ESG, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance. L'Indice de référence est un indice de marché large qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le Compartiment. Aucun Indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

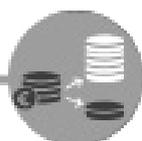

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Technologies de l'information	31.06%
Santé	23.42%
Finance	14.07%
Consommation discrétionnaire	9.15%
Biens de consommation de base	7.56%
Services de communication	6.19%
Industrie	4.42%
Forex	0.22%
Liquidités	3.90%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

Dans le gaz fossile

Dans l'énergie nucléaire

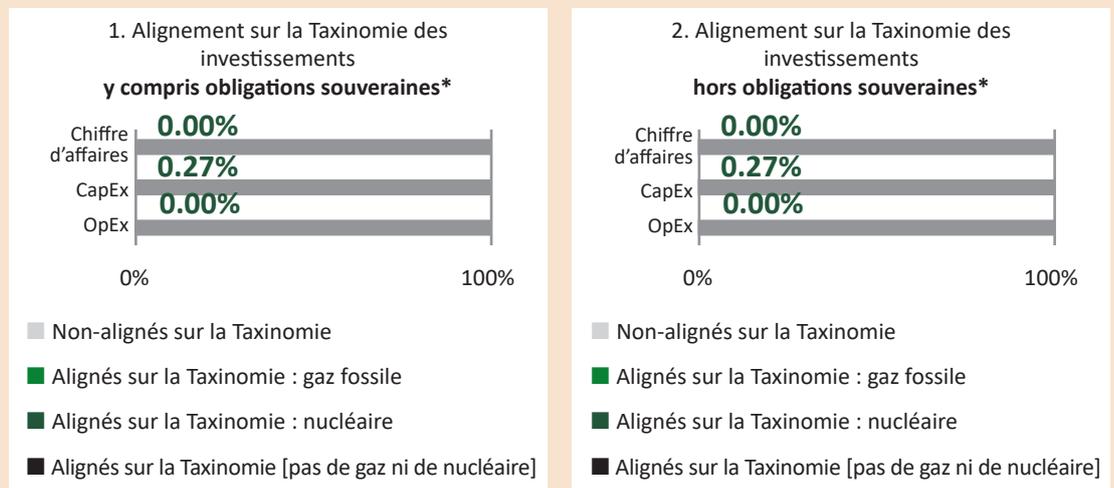

vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 63.99% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EUROPE (15). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales en cherchant à réduire son intensité carbone à travers l'alignement de l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone sur celle de son Indice de référence MSCI EUROPE (15).

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.31 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.80 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

L'indicateur de durabilité utilisé est l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille, qui est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice de référence. Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible avaient une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 92.18
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 211.24

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

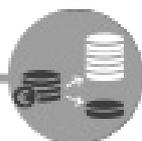

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).

- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires

pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx)

pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx)

pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 11.27% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

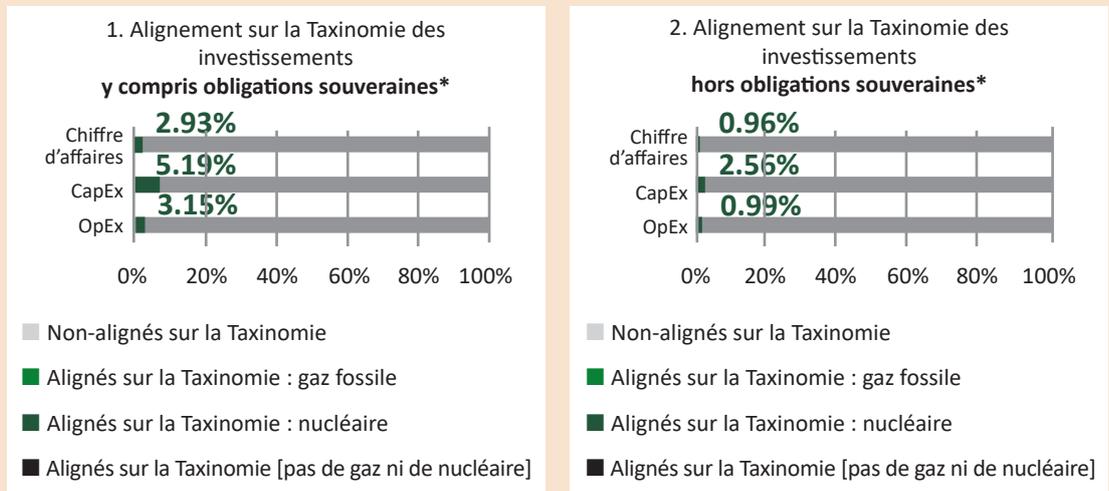

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent

pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence aligné sur Paris (« Paris Aligned ») qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 92.18
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 211.24

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

L'objectif d'investissement durable est atteint en alignant les objectifs de réduction de l'empreinte carbone du fonds sur l'indice MSCI World Climate Paris Aligned Net USD. L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice.

Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible ont une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée. De plus, le fonds exclut les entreprises sur la base d'un comportement controversé et/ou de produits controversés, conformément à la Politique d'investissement responsable.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 92.18
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 211.24

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence aligné sur Paris (« Paris Aligned ») qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement S&P 500 COMPOSITE. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.28 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.38 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ;
 et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI AC ASIA EX JAPAN. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.10 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.09 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être

considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et

- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 19.69% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI CHINA A ONSHORE. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.86 (E).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -1.03 (E).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Dans sa politique d'exclusion qui fait partie intégrante de sa Politique d'investissement responsable, Amundi tient d'ores et déjà compte de Principales incidences négatives

spécifiques. Ces exclusions, qui s'appliquent en sus des tests détaillés ci-dessus, couvrent les sujets suivants : exclusions sur les armes controversées, les violations des principes du Pacte mondial des Nations Unies, le charbon et le tabac.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ;
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

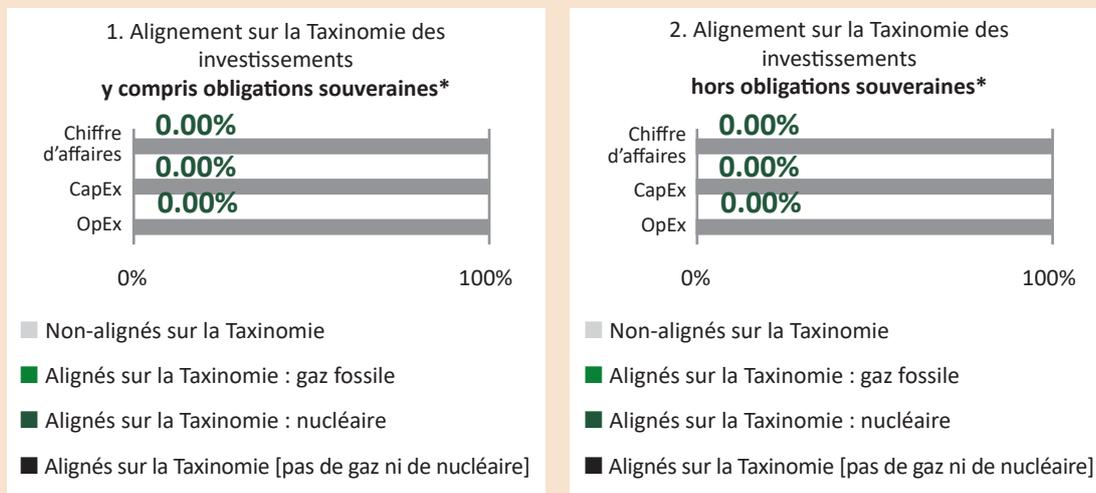

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 3.09% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI CHINA 10/40. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.41 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.58 (E).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;

- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

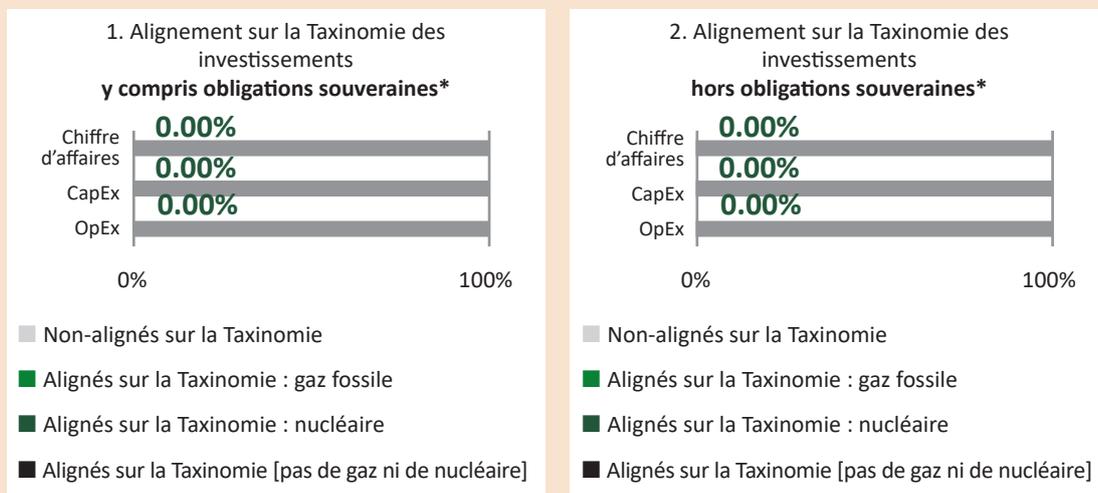

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 17.99% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM EMEA. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

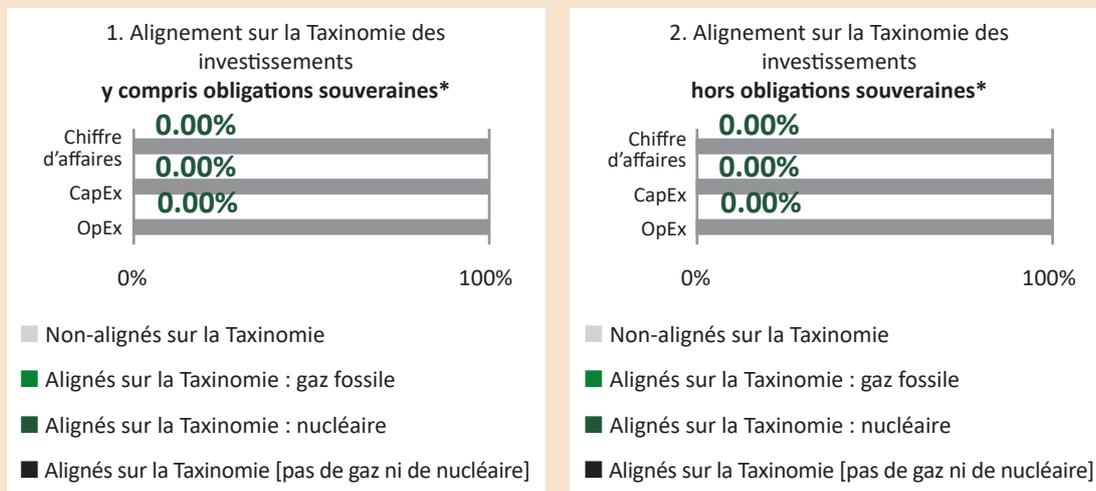

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 12.26% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

● sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 33.72% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.08 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.10 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements

doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.01% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

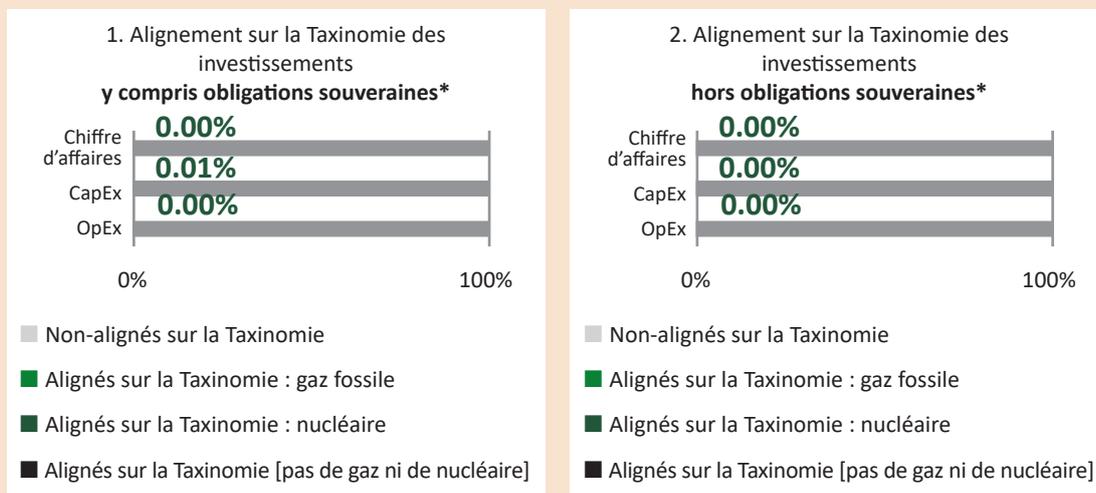

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 30.42% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

Le gestionnaire des investissements a concentré le processus de placement sur les entreprises/secteurs/pays ayant suivi une trajectoire positive en termes de critères ESG au sein de leur activité, ou prévoyant de suivre une telle trajectoire. Le gestionnaire des investissements a identifié des opportunités de placement alignées sur l'objectif de génération d'alpha en se concentrant en particulier sur l'inclusion des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui seront de solides gagnants en termes de critères ESG à l'avenir, qui présentent (ou présenteront) une amélioration favorable du profil ESG, tout en investissant également dans des entreprises/secteurs/pays qui sont actuellement des références en matière d'ESG.

Par ailleurs, le Compartiment a obtenu pour son portefeuille une note ESG qui est supérieure à celle de l'Indice de référence. Le Compartiment a été comparé à la note ESG de son Indice de référence après avoir exclu dudit Indice de référence 20% des titres présentant les notes ESG les plus faibles.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.37 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.10 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288

lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ;
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.09% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 31.20% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.07 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.10 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Dans sa politique d'exclusion qui fait partie intégrante de sa Politique d'investissement responsable, Amundi tient d'ores et déjà compte de Principales incidences négatives

spécifiques. Ces exclusions, qui s'appliquent en sus des tests détaillés ci-dessus, couvrent les sujets suivants : exclusions sur les armes controversées, les violations des principes du Pacte mondial des Nations Unies, le charbon et le tabac.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires

pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx)

pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx)

pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

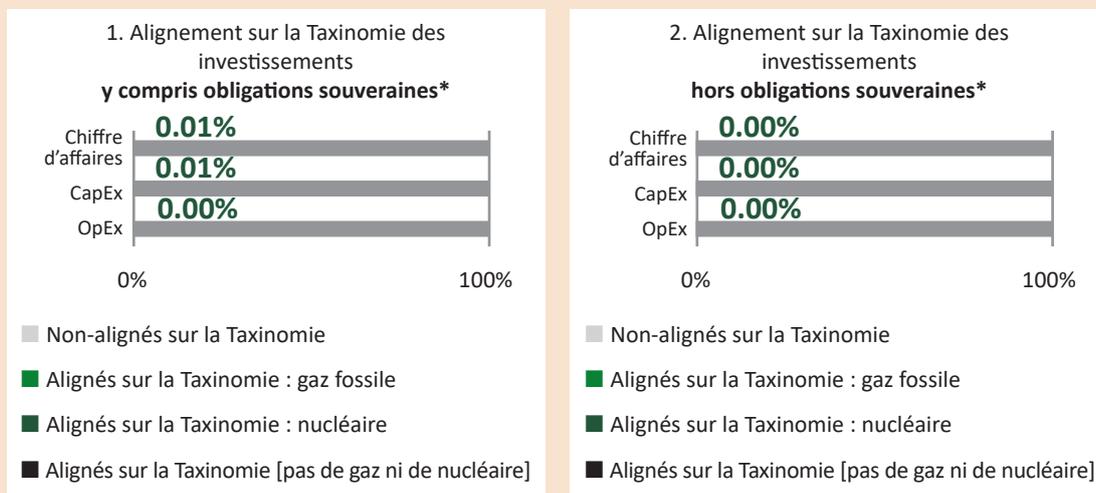

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 25.51% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une proportion de 1.69% d'investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM LATIN AMERICA. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.33 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.20 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires

pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx)

pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx)

pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.07% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

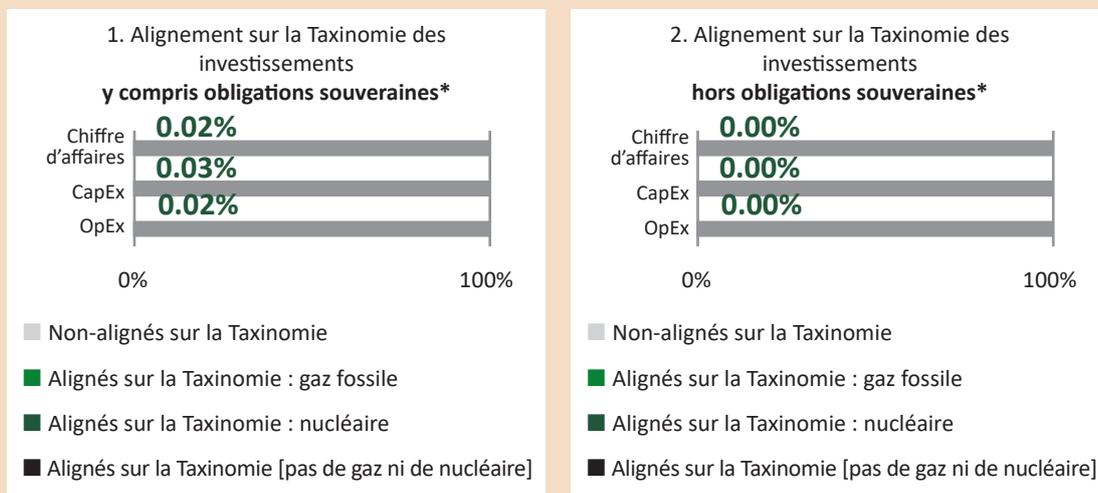

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 1.69% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EM CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales en cherchant à réduire son intensité carbone à travers l'alignement de l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone sur celle de son Indice de référence MSCI EM CLIMATE PARIS ALIGNED.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.33 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.03 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

L'indicateur de durabilité utilisé est l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille, qui est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice de référence. Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible avaient une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 161.02
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 226.69

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il

existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quels étaient les principaux investissements de ce produit financier ?

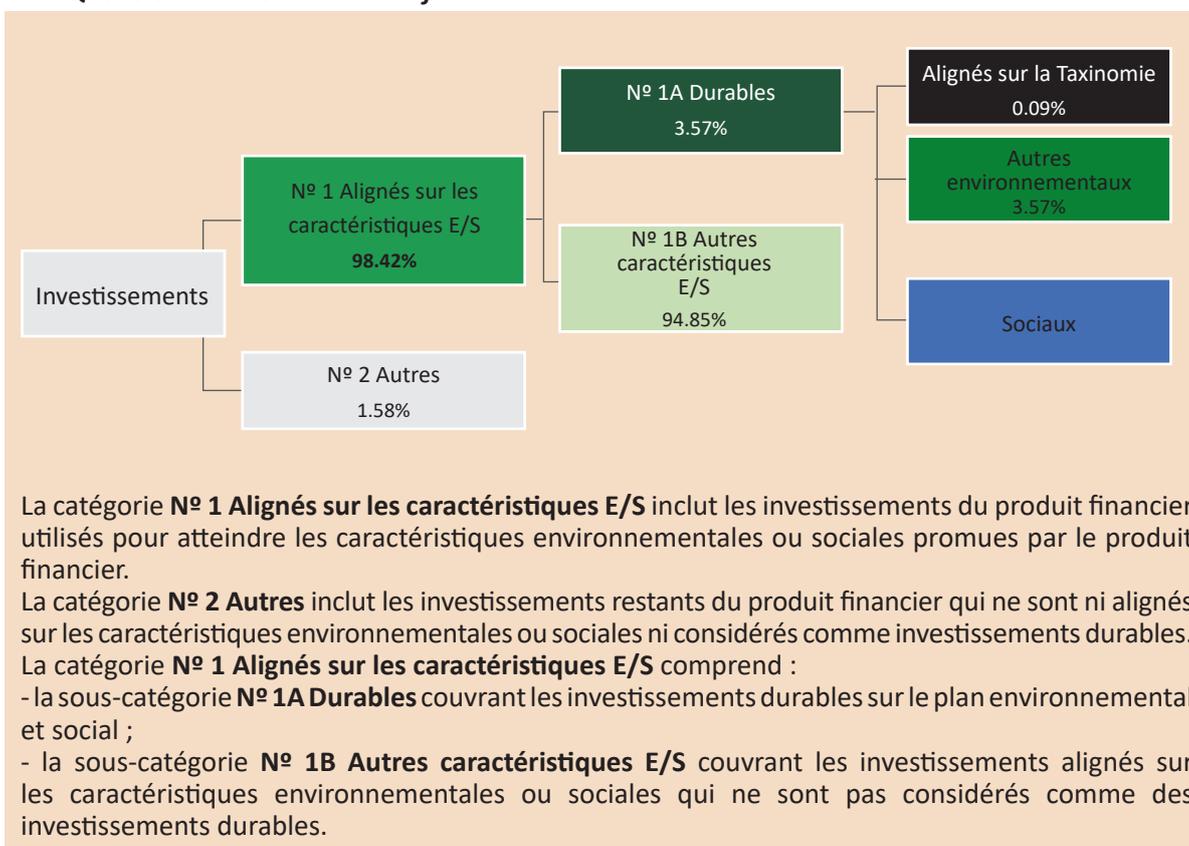

La liste inclut les investissements qui constituent la proportion la plus importante d'investissements du produit financier au cours de la période de référence, à savoir : du 01/07/2022 au 30/06/2023

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.09% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 3.57% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence aligné sur Paris (« Paris Aligned ») qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 161.02
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 226.69

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

L'objectif d'investissement durable est atteint en alignant les objectifs de réduction de l'empreinte carbone du fonds sur l'indice MSCI World Climate Paris Aligned Net USD. L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille est calculée comme une moyenne pondérée des actifs du portefeuille et comparée à l'intensité de l'empreinte carbone pondérée des actifs de l'Indice.

Par conséquent, les titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement faible ont une probabilité plus élevée d'être sélectionnés dans le portefeuille, comparés aux titres présentant une empreinte environnementale relativement élevée. De plus, le fonds exclut les entreprises sur la base d'un comportement controversé et/ou de produits controversés, conformément à la Politique d'investissement responsable.

- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 161.02
- L'intensité de l'empreinte carbone moyenne pondérée de l'Indice de référence est 226.69

● Quelle a été la performance de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de marché large ?

Un indice du marché général n'évalue pas ses composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et ne les inclut pas en vertu de telles caractéristiques. Par conséquent, il ne s'aligne pas sur les caractéristiques environnementales.

L'indice utilisé est un indice de référence « accord de Paris » qui comporte des objectifs spécifiques liés à la réduction des émissions et à la transition vers une économie sobre en carbone à travers la sélection et la pondération de composantes sous-jacentes.

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Dénomination du produit :
AMUNDI FUNDS NEW SILK ROAD

Identifiant d'entité juridique :
549300ZD1W6MTTH0G211

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d'20.45% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement 80% MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS) + 20% MSCI FRONTIER MARKETS. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.08 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.14 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.02% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

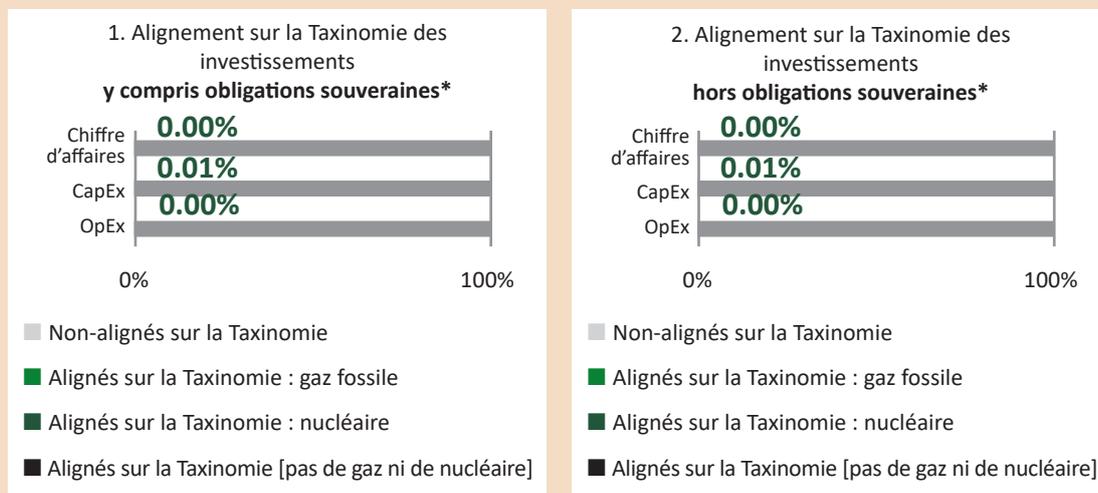

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 17.46% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

● Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport aux indicateurs de durabilité pour déterminer l'alignement de l'indice de référence sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

--	--

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI RUSSIA 10/40. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.78 (D-).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -1.25 (E).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.00% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la taxinomie de l'UE1 ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

1 Les activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou au nucléaire seront exclusivement conformes à la taxinomie de l'UE lorsqu'elles contribuent à limiter le changement climatique (« atténuation du changement climatique ») et ne causent de préjudice important à aucun des objectifs de la taxinomie de l'UE. L'intégralité des critères relatifs aux activités économiques liées au gaz fossile et à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE sont définis dans le Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1214 de la Commission.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d' 37.57% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Le Compartiment a promu les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de l'indice MSCI India 10/40 (l'« Indice de référence»). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Compartiment et de l'Indice de référence, la performance ESG a été évaluée en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport à celle du secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques ESG, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance. L'Indice de référence est un indice de marché large qui n'a pas évalué ni inclus de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui ne prétendait pas être en adéquation avec les caractéristiques promues par le Compartiment. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ».

Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

Pour obtenir des informations plus détaillées, se reporter à la section « Investissements durables » du Prospectus.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est -0.05 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'indice de référence est -0.26 (D).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part de 70.40% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI EMU Index. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.14 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 1.03 (C).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 7.09% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 63.52% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

 Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et autres instruments détenus aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

 Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;

- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 9.34% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

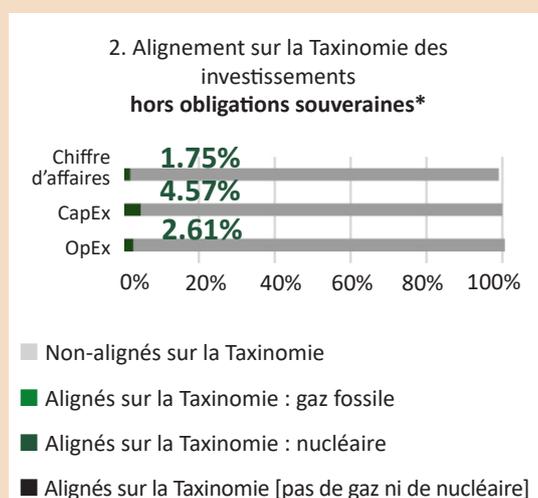

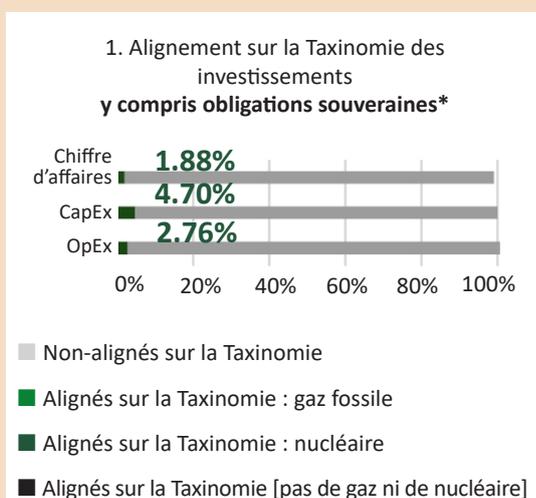

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 51.18% à la fin de la période. Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et autres instruments détenus aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promet.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d' 60.43% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI Europe Index. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affichée les indicateurs de durabilité ?

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.96 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.80 (C).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

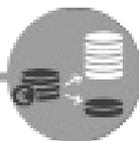

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

● Où se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence précédentes ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 48.41% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

 Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et autres instruments détenus aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

 Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promet.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d' 63.46% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI Europe Index. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.04 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.80 (C).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 4.70% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Quelle était la part des investissements réalisés dans des activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

Au 30/06/2023, en utilisant le chiffre d'affaires et/ou les données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes comme indicateur, la part d'investissements du fonds dans les activités transitoires était de 0.00% et la part d'investissements dans les activités habilitantes était de 0.01%. Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;

- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Biens de consommation de base	14.66%
Services aux collectivités	12.06%
Services de communication	11.87%
Santé	11.40%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 7.81% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

Dans le gaz fossile

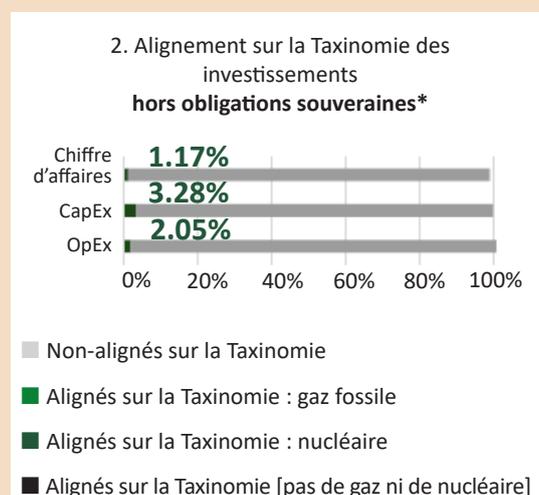

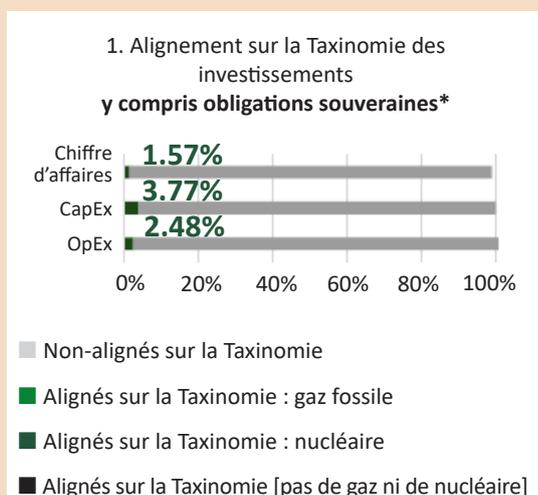

Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Quelle était la part des investissements réalisés dans des activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Où se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence précédentes ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 49.19% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

● Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et autres instruments détenus aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

● Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promet.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.23 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;

- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et
- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 0.28% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Quelle était la part des investissements réalisés dans des activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

● Où se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence précédentes ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 32.21% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et autres instruments détenus aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement MSCI World (dividend reinvested) Index. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.21 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est -0.12 (D).

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d'68.45% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement REFINITIV EUROPEAN CONVERTIBLE HEDGED. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.94 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.71 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

● Dans quels secteurs économiques ont été réalisés les investissements ?

Secteur	% des actifs
Industrie	24.30%
Consommation discrétionnaire	15.28%
Services de communication	14.69%
Finance	10.57%

Technologies de l'information	10.56%
Santé	5.65%
Biens de consommation de base	5.10%

Énergie	1.28%
Forex	0.23%
Autres	0.04%
Liquidités	0.51%

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 4.23% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

Au 30/06/2023, en utilisant le chiffre d'affaires et/ou les données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes comme indicateur, la part d'investissements du fonds dans les activités transitoires était de 0.00% et la part d'investissements dans les activités habilitantes était de 0.00%. Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

 sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental visés par la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 49.94% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

 Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période

 Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

 Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promet.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

Une société est identifiée comme durable par le gestionnaire d'actifs, par le biais de la méthodologie décrite dans la Politique ESG disponible sur le site Web montpensier.com.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Le fonds intègre des facteurs de durabilité dans son processus d'investissement, comme indiqué plus en détail ci-dessous et dans le chapitre « Stratégie d'investissement » du Prospectus.

Les critères ESG sont pris en compte par le fonds afin d'unifier la performance financière et le souhait d'influencer l'émetteur de manière positive, si possible, en matière de performance ESG, en encourageant les entreprises à améliorer l'intégration de critères ESG à leurs activités et en valorisant les bonnes pratiques.

La société de gestion a appliqué la politique décrite dans le Document précontractuel pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier alinéa du Règlement (UE) 2020/852.

Indications complémentaires (non auditées)

35.86% du portefeuille investi à l'exclusion de la catégorie trésorerie et équivalents de trésorerie et de tout organisme de placement collectif (soit 32.48% de l'actif net du fonds) sont constitués d'investissements durables.

L'empreinte carbone et l'intensité carbone moyenne pondérée du portefeuille sont inférieures à celles de l'indice. Ces indicateurs ont progressé sur la période.

Les proportions restent les mêmes en ajoutant les émissions de catégorie Scope 3 Tier 1, puisque l'intensité carbone et l'empreinte carbone du portefeuille sont inférieures à celles de l'indice.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes antérieures ?

Voir plus haut.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

La méthodologie de Montpensier Finance pour identifier les investissements durables repose sur les composantes suivantes :

- évaluation de la contribution à l'objectif de durabilité, qui repose sur une approche d'obligation de moyens, dans le but de sélectionner les « meilleures performances » (ou de supprimer les « moins bonnes performances ») à partir de critères environnementaux (E) et/ou sociaux (S), ainsi que sur une approche basée sur les Objectifs de développement durable (ODD) et une exposition aux activités durables, déterminée via une définition interne des « activités définies comme durables » ;
- évaluation du principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (Do Not Significantly Harm, « DNSH »), qui repose sur des exclusions sectorielles, les Principales incidences négatives (PAI) et la surveillance des controverses, y compris en termes de gouvernance.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

L'évaluation du principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (Do Not Significantly Harm, « DNSH ») repose sur des exclusions, les Principales incidences négatives (PAI) et la surveillance des controverses. De plus, les entreprises présentant une analyse d'impact environnemental ou social MIA (Montpensier Impact Assessment) négative, ou qui sont des piliers environnementaux (E) ou sociaux (S), sont considérées comme dérogeant au principe DNSH.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Nous excluons de notre univers d'investissement les entreprises qui ne sont pas alignées sur certaines normes et conventions internationales, notamment le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (PMNU), les règles de l'Organisation internationale du travail (OIT) et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits de l'homme (UNGPBHR).

Les entreprises qui font l'objet d'une controverse de niveau « Rouge » sont exclues de l'univers d'investissement. Parmi ces controverses de niveau « Rouge » figurent des entreprises qui ne respectent pas le Pacte mondial des Nations unies (droits de l'homme, normes du travail, environnement et lutte contre la corruption).

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Nous tenons compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives dans notre analyse exclusive de la contribution des entreprises à la transition environnementale et à la transition solidaire (analyse d'impact « Montpensier Impact Assessment » ou MIA, et analyse de la contribution des entreprises par secteur « Montpensier Industry Contributor » ou MIC), et/ou des éco-activités, ce qui détermine la contribution à un ou plusieurs Objectifs de développement durable (ODD) de l'ONU. Ces indicateurs varient en fonction du secteur, de l'industrie et du domaine d'exploitation de l'entreprise.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » s'applique uniquement aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'Union européenne en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Les investissements sous-jacents à la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'Union européenne en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

- Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

Oui :

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Les données relatives à l'implication dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie sont déterminées en tenant compte uniquement des données publiées par les entreprises.

Les données concernant l'implication des entreprises dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire conformes à la taxinomie ne sont pas encore disponibles.

Aux fins d'observer la taxinomie de l'UE, les critères applicables au gaz fossile incluent des limites aux émissions et le passage à une énergie entièrement renouvelable ou à des combustibles à faible teneur en carbone d'ici fin 2035.

Pour l'énergie nucléaire, les critères incluent des règles exhaustives de sécurité et de gestion des déchets.

Les activités alignées sur la taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :

- du chiffre d'affaires, pour refléter le caractère écologique actuel des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements ;
- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements, ce qui est pertinent pour une transition vers une économie verte ; et

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires des investissements.

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Alignement sur la taxinomie européenne

L'alignement sur la taxinomie européenne est estimé par MSCI ESG Research, à partir du pourcentage maximal des ventes d'une entreprise découlant de produits et services répondant à des objectifs environnementaux, sur la base du cadre MSCI Sustainable Impact Metrics.

Le pourcentage des ventes généré par les produits et services qui répondent aux objectifs environnementaux est réduit à 0 pour les entreprises qui ne respectent pas les critères de la taxinomie européenne consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » et à adopter des « garanties sociales minimales ».

Le même principe s'applique aux entreprises dont le chiffre d'affaires découle à hauteur de 5% ou plus de la fourniture, distribution ou vente au détail de produits issus du tabac, et aux entreprises impliquées dans les armes controversées.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

La trésorerie, les équivalents de trésorerie et les fonds ou dérivés de couverture représentent 9.4% de l'actif net du fonds et n'offrent pas de garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales.

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

La société de gestion a appliqué la politique décrite dans les informations précontractuelles pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier alinéa du Règlement (UE) 2020/852.

La politique en matière d'engagement des actionnaires de Montpensier Finance se compose d'une politique de vote et d'une politique d'engagement.

L'exercice de droits de vote est un élément important du dialogue avec les émetteurs. Il encourage les bonnes pratiques de gouvernance et promeut l'éthique professionnelle.

Montpensier Finance considère que l'exercice des droits de vote fait partie intégrante du processus de gestion des investissements et qu'il doit être effectué dans l'intérêt de ses clients. La politique en matière de droits de vote de Montpensier Finance vise la promotion de la valorisation à long terme de ses investissements dans le fonds.

Pour exercer les droits de vote attachés aux titres détenus par le fonds, les gestionnaires du fonds se réfèrent aux principes concernant les recommandations de gouvernance d'entreprise publiées par ISS Governance dans sa Politique de durabilité. ISS couvre toutes les entreprises détenues dans les portefeuilles des fonds gérés par Montpensier Finance.

Les réglementations en matière de gouvernance exigent aux gestionnaires de portefeuille d'exercer leurs fonctions de manière indépendante, en particulier concernant les émetteurs, et dans le strict intérêt des porteurs de parts ou actionnaires. Les gestionnaires de portefeuille sont particulièrement attentifs aux décisions susceptibles de nuire aux intérêts des porteurs de parts ou actionnaires.

La politique complète en matière de vote ainsi que le dernier rapport sur l'exercice des droits de vote sont disponibles sur notre site Web.

Montpensier Finance complète sa politique de vote par une politique d'engagement.

Les équipes de gestion du fonds sont encouragées à soulever toute question qui se pose auprès des entreprises au cours des réunions, en particulier lorsque les problèmes en matière d'ESG ne sont pas suffisamment pris en compte, afin d'encourager ces entreprises à améliorer leurs pratiques concernant les questions environnementales, sociales et de gouvernance, qui constituent toutes des facteurs de croissance durable.

Les gestionnaires du fonds, assistés par les analystes ISR, établiront une entente positive et constructive à moyen et long termes avec les entreprises détenues dans le portefeuille.

Cette entente comporte de multiples facettes :

✓ Contacts avec l'entreprise

✓ Communication des intentions de vote des gestionnaires du fonds à la société avant l'assemblée générale

Outre les initiatives d'engagement directes que nous menons généralement avec les petites et moyennes entreprises, Montpensier Finance participe également à des actions d'engagement par groupe mises en œuvre par ISS dans le cadre de son programme ISS ESG spécialement pour les grandes entreprises.

Ce dialogue est mis en place avec plusieurs objectifs :

✓ Encourager les entreprises à mettre en place un engagement ESG

✓ Encourager les entreprises à communiquer sur leurs pratiques ESG

La politique complète en matière d'engagement ainsi que le dernier rapport sur l'engagement sont disponibles sur notre site Web.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promet.

Le fonds n'utilise pas d'indice de référence durable. Sa performance en matière de durabilité est comparée à celle de son indice de référence : Refinitiv Global Conv Focus EUR

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d'41.38% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement 5% JP MORGAN EMBI GLOBAL + 85% BLOOMBERG EURO AGGREGATE (E) + 10% ICE BOFA GLOBAL HIGH YIELD INDEX. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 1.15 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.93 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être

considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).

Indications complémentaires (non auditées)

- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 10.79% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

Oui :

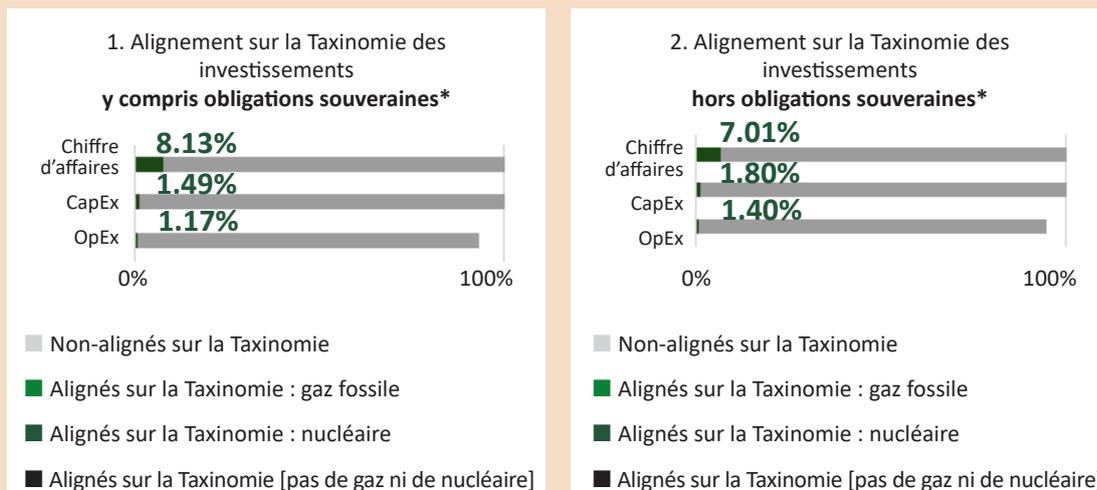

Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire

Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 36.42% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement BLOOMBERG EURO AGGREGATE CORPORATE (E). Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.83 (C).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.55 (C).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.
- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.

- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie

sont exprimées en pourcentage :
 - du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 15.27% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

Au 30/06/2023, en utilisant le chiffre d'affaires et/ou les données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes comme indicateur, la part d'investissements du fonds dans les activités transitoires était de 0.00% et la part d'investissements dans les activités habilitantes était de 0.14%. Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

● Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte

Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période.

Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Dénomination du produit : AMUNDI FUNDS STRATEGIC BOND

Identifiant d'entité juridique : 5493009E9QZ9NKKEW632

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales

Le produit financier avait-il un objectif d'investissement durable ?

Oui

X

Non

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental : _____

dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

Il a réalisé des investissements durables ayant un objectif social : _____

Il a promu des caractéristiques environnementales/sociales (E/S) et, bien qu'il n'ait pas eu pour objectif l'investissement durable, il contenait une part d' 25.60% investissements durables

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui sont considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif environnemental dans des activités économiques qui ne sont pas considérées comme durables sur le plan environnemental au titre de la Taxinomie de l'UE

ayant un objectif social

Il a promu des caractéristiques E/S, mais n'a pas réalisé d'investissements durables

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement INDEX AMUNDI RATING D. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.20 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.00 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

La définition de « meilleures performances » repose sur la méthode ESG exclusive d'Amundi, dont l'objectif est de mesurer la performance ESG d'une société bénéficiaire d'investissements. Pour être

considérée comme l'une des « meilleures performances », une société bénéficiaire d'investissements doit afficher l'une des trois premières notes (A, B ou C, sur une échelle de notation allant de A à G) dans son secteur pour au moins un facteur environnemental ou social important. Les facteurs environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.

● Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables que le produit financier a partiellement réalisés n'ont-ils pas causé de préjudice important à un objectif d'investissement durable sur le plan environnemental ou social ?

Pour s'assurer que les investissements durables ne causent pas de préjudice important (principe « Do no significant harm » ou « DNSH » en anglais), Amundi utilise deux filtres :

Le premier filtre de DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 des normes techniques réglementaires (RTS) lorsqu'il existe des données fiables (par ex. Intensité des GES des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements) via une combinaison d'indicateurs (par ex. intensité carbone) et des seuils ou règles spécifiques (par ex. que l'intensité carbone de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements n'appartient pas au dernier décile du secteur).

Au-delà des facteurs de durabilité spécifiques couverts par le premier filtre, Amundi a défini un second filtre, qui ne tient pas compte des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives ci-dessus, afin de vérifier que la société n'affiche pas de mauvaises performances d'un point de vue environnemental ou social global par rapport aux autres entreprises de son secteur, ce qui correspond à un score environnemental ou social supérieur ou égal à E selon la notation ESG d'Amundi.

- Comment les indicateurs concernant les incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ont-ils été pris en considération ?

Les indicateurs d'incidences négatives ont été pris en compte comme détaillé dans le premier filtre DNSH ci-dessus.

Le premier filtre DNSH repose sur le contrôle des indicateurs obligatoires des Principales incidences négatives de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 lorsqu'il existe des données fiables via la combinaison des indicateurs suivants et de seuils ou règles spécifiques :

- une intensité en CO2 qui n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres entreprises du secteur (ne s'applique qu'aux secteurs à forte intensité) ; et
- un Conseil d'administration dont le niveau de diversité n'appartient pas au dernier décile par rapport aux autres sociétés du secteur ; et
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative aux conditions de travail et aux droits humains ;
- ne pas faire l'objet de controverse relative à la biodiversité et à la pollution.

Les principales incidences négatives correspondent aux incidences négatives les plus significatives des décisions d'investissement sur les facteurs de durabilité liés aux questions environnementales, sociales et de personnel, au respect des droits humains et à la lutte contre la corruption et les actes de corruption.

- Les investissements durables étaient-ils conformes aux Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et aux Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains ? Description détaillée :

Oui, les Principes directeurs de l'OCDE à l'intention des entreprises multinationales et les Principes directeurs des Nations unies relatifs aux entreprises et aux droits humains sont intégrés à notre méthode de notation ESG. Notre outil de notation ESG exclusif évalue les émetteurs à l'aide des données disponibles auprès de nos fournisseurs de données. Par exemple, le modèle dispose d'un critère dédié appelé « Implication dans la communauté et droits humains » qui s'applique à tous les secteurs en plus d'autres critères liés aux droits humains, y compris les chaînes d'approvisionnement socialement responsables, les conditions de travail et les relations de travail. En outre, nous effectuons un contrôle des controverses au moins une fois par trimestre, y compris sur les entreprises identifiées pour des violations des droits humains. En cas de controverse, les analystes évaluent la situation, lui donnent une note (à l'aide de notre méthode de notation exclusive) et déterminent la marche à suivre. Les notes de controverse sont mises à jour chaque trimestre pour suivre les tendances et les efforts de correction.

La Taxinomie de l'UE définit un principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » (« Do not significant harm » ou DNSH) en vertu duquel les investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie ne doivent pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE et s'accompagnent de critères de l'UE spécifiques.

Le principe consistant à « ne pas causer de préjudice important » ne s'applique qu'aux investissements sous-jacents du produit financier qui tiennent compte des critères de l'UE pour les activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Les investissements sous-jacents de la portion restante de ce produit financier ne tiennent pas compte des critères de l'UE en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental.

Tout autre investissement durable doit également se conformer au principe consistant à ne pas causer de préjudice important aux objectifs environnementaux ou sociaux.

Dans quelle mesure ce produit financier a-t-il pris en considération les principales incidences négatives sur les facteurs de durabilité ?

Le produit tient compte de toutes les Principales incidences négatives obligatoires en vertu de l'Annexe 1, Tableau 1 du Règlement délégué (UE) 2022/1288 applicables à la stratégie du produit et s'appuie sur une combinaison de politiques d'exclusion (normatives et sectorielles) et d'approches d'engagement et de vote :

- Exclusion : Amundi a défini des règles d'exclusion normatives, basées sur l'activité et les secteurs, qui couvrent certains des principaux indicateurs négatifs de durabilité énumérés par le Règlement Disclosure (sur la publication d'informations).
- Intégration des facteurs ESG : Amundi a adopté des normes d'intégration ESG minimales appliquées par défaut à ses fonds de type ouvert activement gérés (exclusion des émetteurs ayant la note G et meilleure note ESG moyenne pondérée supérieure à celle de l'indice de référence applicable). Les 38 critères employés dans la stratégie de notation ESG d'Amundi ont également été conçus pour tenir compte des principaux impacts sur les facteurs de durabilité, ainsi que de la qualité de la réduction entreprise en la matière.

- Engagement : L'engagement est un processus continu et ciblé qui vise à influencer les activités ou le comportement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements. L'objectif des activités d'engagement peut se diviser en deux catégories : impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer la manière dont il intègre la dimension environnementale et sociale ou impliquer un émetteur pour améliorer son impact sur les questions environnementales, sociales et liées aux droits humains ou d'autres questions de durabilité qui sont importantes pour la société au sens large et l'économie mondiale.
- Vote : La politique de vote d'Amundi répond à une analyse globale de toutes les questions à long terme qui peuvent influencer la création de valeur, y compris les questions ESG importantes. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter la Politique de vote d'Amundi.
- Surveillance des controverses : Amundi a développé un système de suivi des controverses qui s'appuie sur trois fournisseurs de données externes pour suivre systématiquement l'évolution des controverses et leur niveau de gravité. Cette approche quantitative est ensuite enrichie d'une évaluation approfondie de chaque controverse grave, menée par des analystes ESG, puis d'un examen périodique de son évolution. Cette approche s'applique à tous les fonds d'Amundi.

Pour de plus amples détails sur le mode de prise en compte des indicateurs relatifs aux Principales incidences négatives obligatoires, veuillez consulter la Déclaration sur la publication d'informations en matière de finance durable d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.com.

Quelle était la proportion d'investissements liés à la durabilité ?

● Quelle était l'allocation d'actifs ?

L'allocation d'actifs décrit la part des investissements dans des actifs spécifiques.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S inclut les investissements du produit financier utilisés pour atteindre les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier.

La catégorie N° 2 Autres inclut les investissements restants du produit financier qui ne sont ni alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ni considérés comme investissements durables.

La catégorie N° 1 Alignés sur les caractéristiques E/S comprend :

- la sous-catégorie N° 1A Durables couvrant les investissements durables sur le plan environnemental et social ;
- la sous-catégorie N° 1B Autres caractéristiques E/S couvrant les investissements alignés sur les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales qui ne sont pas considérés comme des investissements durables.

Les activités alignées sur la Taxinomie sont exprimées en pourcentage :
- du chiffre d'affaires pour refléter la part des revenus provenant des activités vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements ;

Dans quelle mesure les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental étaient-ils alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

Le fonds promeut des caractéristiques tant environnementales que sociales. Si le fonds ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser des investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE, au cours de la période sous revue, il a cependant investi 3.47% dans des investissements durables alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. De tels investissements ont contribué à l'obligation relative au changement climatique ou aux objectifs de réduction du changement climatique de la Taxinomie de l'UE.

L'alignement des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements sur les objectifs de la Taxinomie de l'UE susmentionnés est évalué à l'aide du chiffre d'affaires (ou des revenus) et/ou des données d'utilisation des produits des obligations vertes.

- des dépenses d'investissement (CapEx) pour montrer les investissements verts réalisés par les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, pour une transition vers une économie verte, par exemple ; et

- des dépenses d'exploitation (OpEx) pour refléter les activités opérationnelles vertes des sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements.

Le pourcentage communiqué d'alignement des investissements du fonds sur la Taxinomie de l'UE n'a pas été audité par le réviseur d'entreprises agréé du fonds ni par aucun tiers.

● Le produit financier a-t-il investi dans des activités liées au gaz fossile et/ou à l'énergie nucléaire qui sont conformes à la taxinomie de l'UE¹ ?

- Oui :
- Dans le gaz fossile Dans l'énergie nucléaire
- Non

Aucune donnée fiable concernant l'alignement sur les activités de gaz fossile et d'énergie nucléaire conformes à la Taxinomie de l'UE n'était disponible sur la période.

Les graphiques ci-dessous font apparaître en vert le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE. Étant donné qu'il n'existe pas de méthodologie appropriée pour déterminer l'alignement des obligations souveraines* sur la taxinomie, le premier graphique montre l'alignement sur la Taxinomie par rapport à tous les investissements du produit financier, y compris les obligations souveraines, tandis que le deuxième graphique représente l'alignement sur la Taxinomie uniquement par rapport aux investissements du produit financier autres que les obligations souveraines.

* Aux fins de ces graphiques, les « obligations souveraines » comprennent toutes les expositions souveraines

● Quelle était la part d'investissements dans les activités transitoires et habilitantes ?

Les activités habilitantes permettent directement à d'autres activités de contribuer de manière substantielle à la réalisation d'un objectif environnemental.

Les activités transitoires sont des activités pour lesquelles il n'existe pas encore de solution de remplacement sobre en carbone et, entre autres, dont les niveaux d'émission de gaz à effet de serre correspondent aux meilleures performances réalisables.

- Comment se situe le pourcentage d'investissements alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE par rapport aux périodes de référence antérieures ?

Sur les périodes précédentes, la réglementation n'était pas encore en vigueur.

sont des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui ne tiennent pas compte des critères en matière d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental

- Quelle était la part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental qui n'étaient pas alignés sur la Taxinomie de l'UE ?

La part des investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental et non alignés sur la taxinomie était de 22.24% à la fin de la période.

Cela tient du fait que certains émetteurs sont considérés comme investissements durables en vertu du Règlement SFDR mais qu'une portion de leurs activités n'est pas alignée sur les standards de la taxinomie de l'UE, ou que les données correspondantes ne sont pas encore disponibles en vue d'une évaluation relative à la taxinomie de l'UE.

- Quelle était la part d'investissements durables sur le plan social ?

Ce produit ne s'est pas engagé à réaliser d'investissements durables sur le plan social au cours de la période

- Quels investissements étaient inclus dans la catégorie « Autres », quelle était leur finalité et existait-il des garanties environnementales ou sociales minimales ?

Sont inclus dans la catégorie « N° 2 Autres » les liquidités et les instruments aux fins de gestion de la liquidité et des risques du portefeuille. Cette catégorie peut également inclure les titres sans notation ESG pour lesquels les données nécessaires à l'évaluation de la réalisation des caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales ne sont pas disponibles.

- Quelles mesures ont-elles été prises pour réaliser les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales au cours de la période de référence ?

Des indicateurs de durabilité sont mis à disposition de manière continue dans le système de gestion du portefeuille pour permettre aux gestionnaires du portefeuille d'évaluer l'impact de leurs décisions d'investissement.

Ces indicateurs sont intégrés au cadre de contrôle d'AMUNDI, en répartissant les responsabilités entre le premier niveau de contrôles réalisés par les équipes Investissement elles-mêmes, et le second niveau de contrôles réalisé par les équipes Risque, qui surveillent la conformité aux caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues en permanence par le fonds.

En outre, la Politique d'investissement responsable d'AMUNDI définit une approche active en matière d'engagement qui promeut le dialogue avec les sociétés bénéficiaires d'investissements, y compris celles qui sont incluses dans le portefeuille de ce produit. Notre Rapport annuel en matière d'engagement, disponible à la page <https://about.amundi.com/esg-documentation>, fournit des informations détaillées sur cet engagement et ses résultats.

Quelles ont été les performances de ce produit financier par rapport à l'indice de référence ?

Un indice de référence est un indice qui sert à mesurer si le produit financier réalise les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales qu'il promeut.

Ce produit ne dispose pas d'un Indice de référence ESG.

- En quoi l'indice de référence diffère-t-il de l'indice du marché général ?

Modèle d'informations périodiques pour les produits financiers visés à l'Article 8, paragraphes 1, 2 et 2a, du Règlement (UE) 2019/2088 et à l'Article 6, premier paragraphe du Règlement (UE) 2020/852

Dénomination du produit : AMUNDI FUNDS EURO HIGH YIELD BOND

Identifiant d'entité juridique : E1BBUNTIB1P10L18SD26

Par investissement durable, on entend un investissement dans une activité économique qui contribue à un objectif environnemental ou social, pour autant qu'il ne cause de préjudice important à aucun de ces objectifs et que les sociétés détenues respectent les pratiques de bonne gouvernance.

La Taxinomie de l'UE est un système de classification institué par le Règlement (UE) 2020/852, qui dresse une liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan environnemental. Ce règlement ne comprend pas de liste d'activités économiques durables sur le plan social. Les investissements durables ayant un objectif environnemental ne sont pas nécessairement alignés sur la Taxinomie.

Dans quelle mesure les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales promues par ce produit financier ont-elles été réalisées ?

Au cours de l'exercice financier, le produit n'a cessé de promouvoir les caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales en cherchant à atteindre une note ESG supérieure à celle de son univers d'investissement ICE BOFA BB-B EUROPEAN CURRENCY HIGH YIELD CONSTRAINED INDEX HEDGED. Pour déterminer la note ESG du Produit et de l'univers d'investissement ESG, la performance ESG a été évaluée de manière continue en comparant la performance moyenne d'un titre par rapport au secteur de l'émetteur du titre, pour chacune des trois caractéristiques, à savoir environnementale, sociale et de gouvernance.

L'univers d'investissement est un univers du marché général qui n'évalue ni n'inclut pas de composantes en fonction de caractéristiques environnementales et/ou sociales, et qui n'a par conséquent pas pour vocation d'être conforme aux caractéristiques promues par le fonds. Aucun indice de référence ESG n'a été désigné.

Les indicateurs de durabilité évaluent la mesure dans laquelle les caractéristiques environnementales ou sociales promues par le produit financier sont atteintes.

● Quelle performance ont affiché les indicateurs de durabilité ?

Amundi a développé son propre processus de notation ESG interne, qui suit une approche « Best-in-class ». Les notations adaptées à chaque secteur d'activité ont pour objectif d'évaluer la dynamique dans laquelle interviennent les entreprises.

L'indicateur de durabilité employé est la note ESG du Produit mesurée en comparaison avec la note ESG de l'univers d'investissement ESG du Produit.

À la fin de la période :

- La note ESG moyenne pondérée du portefeuille est 0.28 (D).
- La note ESG moyenne pondérée de l'univers d'investissement ESG est 0.16 (D).

La notation ESG Amundi utilisée pour déterminer la note ESG est une note ESG quantitative qui se décline en sept niveaux allant de A (les meilleures notes de l'univers) à G (les pires notes). Sur l'échelle de notation ESG d'Amundi, les titres figurant sur la liste d'exclusion correspondent à G. Pour les entreprises émettrices, la performance ESG est évaluée de manière globale et au niveau des critères pertinents par comparaison avec la performance moyenne du secteur, en combinant les trois dimensions ESG :

- Dimension environnementale : cette dimension examine la capacité des émetteurs à contrôler leur impact environnemental direct et indirect, en limitant leur consommation d'énergie, en réduisant leurs émissions de gaz à effet de serre, en luttant contre l'appauvrissement des ressources et en protégeant la biodiversité.
- Dimension sociale : cette dimension évalue le fonctionnement d'un émetteur dans deux domaines différents, à savoir sa stratégie de développement du capital humain et le respect des droits humains en général.
- Dimension de gouvernance : cette dimension évalue la capacité de l'émetteur à garantir les fondements d'un cadre de gouvernance d'entreprise efficace et à générer de la valeur sur le long terme.

● ... et par rapport aux périodes précédentes ?

Les indicateurs de durabilité ci-dessus n'ont pas été comparés à des périodes antérieures dans la mesure où la réglementation n'était pas encore entrée en vigueur.

● Quels étaient les objectifs des investissements durables que le produit financier entendait partiellement réaliser, et comment l'investissement durable a-t-il contribué à ces objectifs ?

Les objectifs des investissements durables sont d'investir dans des sociétés détenues qui cherchent à respecter deux critères :

1. suivre les bonnes pratiques environnementales et sociales ; et
2. éviter de fabriquer des produits ou de fournir des services qui nuisent à l'environnement et à la société.

Pour que la société bénéficiaire d'investissements soit réputée contribuer à l'objectif susmentionné, elle doit figurer parmi les meilleures performances de son secteur d'activité pour au moins l'un de ses facteurs environnementaux ou sociaux importants.

environnementaux et sociaux sont identifiés à l'échelle des secteurs. L'identification des facteurs importants est basée sur le cadre d'analyse ESG d'Amundi qui combine des données extra-financières et une analyse qualitative du secteur associé et des questions de durabilité. Les facteurs identifiés comme importants représentent plus de 10 % de la note ESG globale. Par exemple pour le secteur de l'énergie, les facteurs importants sont les suivants : émissions et énergie, biodiversité et pollution, santé et sécurité, communautés locales et droits humains. Pour un aperçu plus complet des secteurs et des facteurs, veuillez consulter la Déclaration réglementaire ESG d'Amundi disponible sur www.amundi.lu

Pour contribuer aux objectifs ci-dessus, la société bénéficiaire d'investissements ne doit pas avoir d'exposition significative aux activités (par ex. tabac, armes, jeux de hasard, charbon, aviation, production de viande, fabrication d'engrais et de pesticides, production de plastique à usage unique) incompatibles avec ces critères.

Le caractère durable d'un investissement est évalué au niveau de la société bénéficiaire d'investissements.
