Rapport de gestion

Au début de la période sous revue, à savoir au troisième trimestre 2022, une détérioration notable de la situation économique a pu être observée aux États-Unis, et s'est avérée encore plus frappante en Europe. Les records de hausse atteints par l'inflation ont entraîné une baisse du pouvoir d'achat des ménages et ont conduit les banques centrales à relever leurs taux directeurs. L'Europe a également souffert d'une augmentation spectaculaire des prix du gaz provoquée par la guerre entre la Russie et l'Ukraine. En Chine, le redressement faisant suite au relâchement des restrictions anti-Covid n'a guère duré et de nouvelles difficultés sont apparues dans le secteur immobilier.

Au quatrième trimestre 2022, l'économie mondiale a continué de subir la pression exercée par une inflation très élevée et des politiques monétaires plus strictes. Parallèlement, certaines grandes régions ont subi de plein fouet les effets négatifs d'événements spécifiques (la réduction de l'offre de gaz naturel en Europe et les restrictions liées au Covid en Chine). Par conséquent, la majorité des données économiques publiées au quatrième trimestre se sont avérées légèrement plus mauvaises que prévu.

Au premier trimestre 2023, l'économie mondiale a affiché un certain ralentissement, mais avec de grandes différences régionales. Aux États-Unis et, de façon plus notable, en Europe, la contraction s'est avérée plus modérée que prévu. Cependant, en mars, les tensions sur les marchés ont renforcé les incertitudes. La Chine a maintenu sa trajectoire haussière après sa réouverture post-Covid, contribuant ainsi à limiter la décélération d'autres économies émergentes. Bien qu'en perte de vitesse, l'inflation est restée très élevée dans la plupart des pays et les banques centrales ont poursuivi leur cycle de hausse des taux d'intérêt directeurs. Les marchés de taux d'intérêt ont enregistré une forte volatilité, tandis que les marchés d'actions ont affiché des performances positives, en particulier grâce à un bon mois de janvier.

Au deuxième trimestre 2023, une grande partie de l'économie mondiale s'est maintenue dans un état de stagflation (croissance faible et inflation très élevée). Dans le même temps, les épisodes éventuels de recul d'inflation ont eu très peu d'effet sur les indicateurs sous-jacents (hors énergie et alimentation). Les banques centrales ont poursuivi leurs hausses de taux directeurs, mais à un rythme plus lent qu'aux trimestres précédents. Concernant les marchés financiers, les actions ont progressé tandis que les obligations enregistraient une certaine volatilité, quoiqu'à des degrés différents selon les régions et les échéances.

États-Unis

Au troisième trimestre 2022, la reprise économique américaine s'est affaiblie, sous l'effet d'une baisse du revenu réel des ménages (résultat d'une inflation très élevée) et de la hausse des taux d'intérêt. Les principaux indicateurs concernant les entreprises, comme l'indice ISM, ont témoigné d'une poursuite de la croissance, mais à une cadence beaucoup plus modérée. Malgré un léger rebond, les indicateurs de confiance des ménages sont restés très décevants. Les données dans l'immobilier, secteur très sensible aux taux d'intérêt, ont reflété une situation particulièrement grave. D'un autre côté, la création d'emplois a conservé une certaine vigueur, le taux de chômage est demeuré faible et de nombreux travailleurs qui avaient cessé de chercher du travail pendant la pandémie sont revenus sur le marché. Par rapport au mois de juin, l'inflation a légèrement fléchi en juillet et en août, mais s'est maintenue à un niveau très élevé (l'inflation de base ayant repris son accélération en août). La Réserve fédérale américaine (Fed) a poursuivi son resserrement monétaire (avec deux hausses de 0.75% des taux des fonds fédéraux en juillet et septembre 2022). Elle s'est montrée déterminée à donner la priorité à la lutte contre l'inflation, en dépit des répercussions négatives que cette politique pourrait avoir sur le marché du travail.

Malgré un ralentissement, l'activité économique américaine est restée relativement robuste au quatrième trimestre 2022. Les secteurs fortement exposés à la hausse des taux d'intérêt ont clairement montré des signes d'érosion, en commençant par l'immobilier. L'activité manufacturière a également fléchi, avec un indice ISM signalant une contraction, partiellement imputable à la fermeté du dollar américain. En revanche, l'indice ISM des services a reflété la très bonne santé de l'activité économique. Le marché du travail a maintenu toute sa vigueur, avec une solide création d'emplois, malgré les tendances baissières. Les taux de chômage se sont maintenus à des niveaux très faibles et ont continué d'alimenter la hausse des salaires. L'inflation toujours très haute est néanmoins tombée à 7.1% en novembre, l'inflation de base se situant à 6.0%. La Fed a poursuivi sa lutte contre l'inflation et a respectivement relevé les taux des fonds fédéraux de 75 et 50 points de base en novembre et décembre respectivement (portant finalement sa fourchette cible à 4.25%-4.5%). Finalement, sur le plan politique, les élections de la mi-mandat ont laissé la Chambre des représentants sous contrôle républicain et le Sénat dans les mains des démocrates.

Début 2023, les enquêtes économiques aux États-Unis étaient mitigées : L'indice ISM manufacturier s'est installé en territoire négatif. Quant aux services, l'indicateur homologue a connu un bref repli au tournant de l'année, puis un solide redressement et enfin un retour au point neutre en mars 2023. Le marché du travail américain est resté solide : les chiffres de création d'emplois ont surpris à la hausse en janvier 2023 et, dans une moindre mesure, en février. Le taux de chômage américain a touché un plancher historique de 3.4% en janvier, pour remonter jusqu'à 3.6% en février en raison du retour des travailleurs sur le marché. L'inflation a continué de se replier, quoiqu'à un rythme très modéré : l'indice général avait gagné 6.0% sur douze mois en février (6.4% en janvier), tandis que l'indice sous-jacent s'établissait à 5.5% (après avoir atteint 5.6%). À la fin du premier trimestre, les craintes de récession se sont multipliées à la suite des faillites de SVB et de deux banques de petite taille, remettant en cause la stabilité financière et les conditions de prêt de l'économie réelle. Confrontée à un triple défi - inflation élevée, baisse de la croissance et intensification des tensions financières - la Fed a poursuivi son resserrement monétaire, mais en freinant la cadence. L'institution a augmenté les taux de 25 points de base en février puis à nouveau en mars, élargissant sa fourchette à 4.75/5.00%.

Confrontée à la hausse rapide des taux d'intérêt menée par la Fed, l'économie américaine a ralenti au deuxième trimestre 2023, mais plus progressivement que ce qu'annonçaient les prévisions à la fin du premier trimestre. Les répercussions de la faillite de plusieurs banques régionales en mars ont finalement été limitées et les craintes de crise financière se sont amoindries. Les indicateurs économiques ont reculé (plus dans l'industrie que dans les services), sans pour autant laisser transparaître de signes de récession imminente. Bien que le taux de chômage ait augmenté au mois de mai (à 3.7%, le taux le plus élevé depuis octobre 2022), les créations d'emplois se sont néanmoins poursuivies à un rythme plus soutenu que prévu. Quant à l'inflation, l'indice général a encore reculé (à 4.0% sur la période de douze mois terminant en mai, après avoir atteint 5.0% en mars et un pic de 9.1% en juin 2022), notamment sous l'effet des prix de l'énergie. Toutefois, cette tendance a été moins marquée pour l'inflation sous-jacente (5.3% en mai après avoir atteint 5.6% en mars et un pic de 6.6% en septembre 2022). Après avoir relevé les taux des fonds fédéraux de 25 points de base en mai (à une fourchette de 5.0-5.25%), la Fed les a laissés inchangés en juin, tout en signalant que la probabilité de réaliser de nouvelles hausses d'ici la fin de l'année était élevée.

Zone euro

L'environnement économique de la zone euro s'est sensiblement dégradé au troisième trimestre 2022. L'économie de la région, se débattant déjà contre une inflation record, un resserrement monétaire et les retombées du ralentissement constaté en Chine, s'est retrouvée face à un défi supplémentaire : la forte augmentation des prix du gaz naturel imputable à la réduction drastique des approvisionnements russes. Dans ce contexte de crise énergétique, en fin de troisième trimestre, les craintes d'une récession dans la région se sont multipliées. Pour les entreprises, les indicateurs de confiance ont légèrement glissé en territoire négatif, tandis que pour les ménages, ces indices, déjà établis à des planchers historiques, ont encore reculé. Le marché du travail dans la région, d'un autre côté, est resté florissant avec un taux de chômage à son plus bas niveau depuis la création de la zone euro. L'inflation a touché la barre des 10% en septembre 2022.

Après avoir relevé ses taux d'intérêt de 0.50% en juillet (la première hausse depuis 2011), la Banque centrale européenne (BCE) a encore relevé ses taux de 0.75% en septembre. Elle a par ailleurs déclaré son intention de poursuivre ce cycle de hausse, en dépit de l'aggravation des perspectives de croissance, pour tenter de combattre l'inflation.

Au quatrième trimestre 2022, l'économie de la zone euro a encore subi la pression des prix de l'énergie en raison du conflit russo-ukrainien, source d'incertitudes majeures à l'approche de l'hiver. Toutefois, malgré des signes de ralentissement, les chiffres économiques se sont révélés un peu meilleurs que prévu. Le PIB de la zone euro et en particulier celui de l'Allemagne ont ainsi continué de croître. Les indicateurs du climat des affaires (notamment les indices PMI) ont montré un ralentissement de l'activité économique, mais d'une portée limitée. Bien que légèrement en baisse au mois de novembre (à 10.1%, malgré de grandes différences entre les pays de la zone euro), l'inflation a atteint des niveaux stupéfiants et a poursuivi sa contagion, de l'énergie vers de multiples autres secteurs. Disposée à faire fléchir cette tendance inflationniste, la BCE a annoncé un relèvement de 75 points de base de ses taux directeurs en octobre, suivi d'un autre de 50 points en décembre, portant ainsi son taux de facilité de dépôt à 2.0%. Finalement, après avoir appliqué plusieurs mesures d'appoint, les gouvernements des États membres de l'UE sont parvenus à prendre des décisions conjointes visant à plafonner le prix du gaz naturel à la fin de l'année.

Les indicateurs économiques de la zone euro ont surpris favorablement au premier trimestre 2023, signalant une stagnation de l'activité au lieu d'un fort ralentissement. La baisse des prix du gaz et la reprise économique en Chine ont représenté les deux facteurs de soutien. Le PMI manufacturier a continué de signaler une contraction, mais son équivalent pour les services est repassé en territoire positif. Le marché du travail a conservé sa vigueur, le taux de chômage touchant un plancher record (6.6%) en février. Les pressions inflationnistes se sont maintenues à un niveau élevé : bien que le taux d'inflation générale diminue sensiblement (en hausse de 6.9% sur la période de douze mois terminant en mars, après avoir atteint un sommet à 10.6% en octobre 2022), notamment grâce aux effets de base négatifs sur les prix de l'énergie, il en a été autrement pour le taux sous-jacent, qui n'a fait qu'accélérer (en hausse de 5.7% en février, son niveau le plus élevé depuis la création de l'euro). Déterminée à faire baisser l'inflation, la BCE a relevé ses taux de 50 points de base en février, puis en mars, portant ainsi le taux de facilité de dépôt à 3.0% et le taux d'intérêt des opérations de refinancement à 3.5%. Toutefois, en mars, les tensions financières grandissantes aux États-Unis ainsi que leurs répercussions en Europe (faillite de Credit Suisse et craintes passagères concernant Deutsche Bank) ont attiré l'attention du marché sur l'émergence de nouveaux risques.

Au deuxième trimestre 2023, l'activité économique de la zone euro a continué à être entravée par la hausse des taux d'intérêt et l'effet de l'inflation élevée sur le pouvoir d'achat des ménages. Elle a également pâti de l'environnement économique international maussade résultant du ralentissement observé aux États-Unis et en Chine. Après deux trimestres de baisse du PIB consécutifs (le dernier trimestre 2022 et le premier trimestre 2023), les indicateurs relevés au deuxième trimestre sont pour la plupart ressortis en dessous des prévisions. Les enquêtes économiques ont fait état de divergences significatives entre l'industrie (toujours en difficulté après les chocs survenus ces dernières années) et les services (où l'activité est demeurée solide malgré un ralentissement). L'inflation dans la zone euro a poursuivi son repli : sur douze mois, le taux d'inflation générale est tombé à 5.5% en juin après avoir atteint 6.9% en mars et un pic de 10.6% en octobre 2022. Cependant, ce déclin ne s'est que très modérément répercuté sur le taux d'inflation sous-jacente : en hausse de 5.4% en juin après avoir atteint un pic de 5.7% en mars. Par ailleurs, les salaires ont fortement progressé au premier trimestre. La BCE a relevé ses taux de 25 points de base en mai, puis en juin, portant ainsi le taux de facilité de dépôt à 3.5%. La BCE a également laissé entrevoir la possibilité d'une hausse additionnelle en juillet.

Emerging Markets

En Chine, la croissance économique s'est à nouveau redressée au troisième trimestre 2022, grâce au relâchement des mesures mises en œuvre pour contenir la pandémie et à l'assouplissement des politiques monétaire et budgétaire. Toutefois les autorités chinoises ont annoncé de nouvelles restrictions de mouvement avant le congrès du parti de la mi-octobre, provoquant de nouvelles craintes chez les investisseurs quant à l'impact de ces mesures sur la croissance économique. Pour le reste des marchés émergents, le troisième trimestre a été marqué par des révisions à la baisse des perspectives de croissance. En effet, le contexte d'inflation élevée et de resserrement des conditions monétaires à l'échelle tant nationale que mondiale a eu une incidence croissante sur la demande intérieure. Le ralentissement du commerce international, les prévisions de récession dans la zone euro et une croissance américaine inférieure aux attentes ont également joué sur cette période. Du fait de la crise énergétique et des hausses de prix en Europe, il semble que le ralentissement ait été plus prononcé en Europe centrale et de l'Est qu'en Amérique latine. La situation économique en Asie est restée stable. Les données d'inflation, en revanche, sont restées très élevées et ont, dans l'ensemble, continué d'augmenter, en dépit d'une stabilisation dans certains pays, notamment au Brésil. Sans surprise, les banques centrales des pays émergents (à l'exception de la Russie et de la Turquie) ont poursuivi leur cycle de hausses de taux, les derniers à se joindre au mouvement incluant, entre autres, la Thaïlande et l'Indonésie. Toutefois, si l'amplitude des hausses de taux s'est accentuée en Asie, la fin du cycle est apparue proche pour d'autres pays (Brésil, Hongrie, République tchèque, etc.). Quoi qu'il en soit, la République tchèque et la Hongrie affichaient encore des taux d'inflation à deux chiffres.

Au quatrième trimestre 2022, la croissance des économies émergentes a généralement tenu le coup. Seuls quelques pays en Amérique latine (Chili) et en Europe de l'Est (Roumanie) ont montré des signes de ralentissement. En même temps, nous avons assisté à une réouverture de l'économie chinoise légèrement plus rapide que prévu, d'où l'amélioration des perspectives de croissance tant à l'échelle mondiale que pour tous les pays émergents. Malgré une hausse persistante dans un certain nombre de pays, l'inflation s'est stabilisée dans l'ensemble. Il n'y a qu'au Brésil qu'a pu être observée une baisse tangible de l'inflation, suite au repli des matières premières (énergie, alimentation et autres) et à un resserrement monétaire vigoureux. Les banques centrales ont poursuivi leurs hausses de taux d'intérêt, qui n'ont cependant pas été appliquées de la même manière dans les différents pays. En Amérique latine ainsi qu'en Europe du Centre et de l'Est, les banques centrales ont donné l'impression de vouloir ralentir la cadence ou même de marquer une pause. Mais en Asie (Indonésie et Philippines, en particulier), elles ont opté pour un resserrement rapide, adoptant ainsi une approche proactive de lutte contre l'inflation.

Le premier trimestre 2023 a été marqué par une activité plus solide que prévu en Chine, dopée par une forte reprise des ventes de logements et des mesures budgétaires favorables. En revanche, d'autres pays émergents, ayant pourtant démontré une certaine résilience, ont connu une conjoncture bien plus mauvaise. Les données d'inflation du mois de janvier ont fait état de baisses inférieures aux prévisions et même, dans certains cas, d'une accélération continue de l'inflation sous-jacente alimentée par les mécanismes d'indexation des salaires. Cependant, les chiffres de février ont ensuite signalé un marasme économique plus général. Après avoir sensiblement revu à la baisse leurs perspectives en matière d'évolution des taux directeurs pour les économies avancées, les marchés ont également modifié leurs prévisions pour les économies émergentes. Toutefois, ces pays ont continué de mener leur politique monétaire principalement en fonction du contexte local, cherchant le bon équilibre entre les hausses de taux d'intérêt et les temps de pause, au gré des tendances et prévisions d'inflation. La Banque populaire de Chine (BPC) a, de manière inattendue, réduit son ratio de réserves obligatoires afin de juguler la forte hausse des taux interbancaires et de maintenir un niveau de liquidité suffisant au sein du système financier.

Au deuxième trimestre 2023, les chiffres de PIB du premier trimestre ont indiqué que l'activité économique avait mieux résisté que prévu dans la plupart des pays émergents en raison de plusieurs facteurs : un fléchissement de l'inflation, un relâchement de la pression sur les chaînes d'approvisionnement induit par la réouverture de la Chine, des politiques budgétaires expansionnistes dans certains pays et la meilleure résilience des économies européenne et américaine. Les indicateurs à haute fréquence ont confirmé le scénario d'atterrissage en douceur, sans toutefois indiquer de rebond significatif. En Chine, les données de croissance du deuxième trimestre ont signalé un ralentissement plus prononcé que prévu dans les secteurs de la construction et de la production manufacturière. La BPC a réagi en réduisant la plupart de ses taux de 10 points de base. Certaines banques centrales (de pays comme l'Afrique du Sud, la Colombie, la Malaisie, la Thaïlande, les Philippines et la Turquie) ont de nouveau relevé leurs taux d'intérêt. L'inflation, mais aussi les pressions subies par leurs monnaies alors que le marché révisait à la hausse ses attentes concernant la Réserve fédérale américaine et enfin l'intensification des tensions géopolitiques les ont poussées dans ce sens. Cependant, les chiffres d'inflation du mois de mai ont surpris à la baisse et la plupart des banques centrales ont adouci le ton. Malgré la volatilité élevée du marché, les principaux indices (GBI, EMBI, MSCI) ont surperformé au deuxième trimestre.

Le Fonds, initialement dénommé Groupe Indosuez Funds FCP, est un fonds commun de placement sans personnalité morale créé le 18 juillet 1985, transformé conformément à l'article 110 (2) de la loi du 30 mars 1988 relative aux organismes de placement collectif puis renommé GIF SICAV II le 15 mars 1999. L'acte de transformation et les statuts (les « statuts ») ont été publiés au Mémorial du Recueil des Sociétés et Associations le 28 avril 1999. Le 2 mars 2010, en accord avec la décision prise par les actionnaires lors de l'assemblée générale extraordinaire tenue le 23 novembre 2009 et par décision du conseil d'administration prise le 23 décembre 2009, CAAM Funds a été renommé Amundi Funds.

Les amendements apportés aux statuts ont été publiés au Mémorial du Recueil des Sociétés et Associations, respectivement le 14 janvier 2000, le 17 janvier 2001 et le 13 juin 2007 en ce qui concerne les trois premiers changements de nom et le 3 avril 2010 en ce qui concerne le dernier en date. Un dernier amendement a été apporté aux statuts le 14 mars 2012 et a été publié au Mémorial C du Recueil des Sociétés et Associations, numéro 943 en date du 12 avril 2012. 2 PRINCIPALES CONVENTIONS COMPTABLES

■ PRÉSENTATION DES ÉTATS FINANCIERS

Les états financiers du Fonds ont été préparés conformément aux dispositions réglementaires en vigueur au Luxembourg concernant les organismes de placement collectif.

Les états financiers sont présentés sur la base de la dernière valeur nette d'inventaire (« VNI ») calculée pendant la période comptable. Conformément au prospectus en date de mai 2023, les VNI ont été calculées d'après les dernières valeurs de marché et les derniers cours de change connus au moment du calcul, à savoir :

- Pour tous les Compartiments, à l'exception d'Amundi Funds Equity MENA : VNI officielle au 30 juin 2023 ;
- Pour Amundi Funds Equity MENA : VNI non officielle au 30 juin 2023, la VNI officielle n'ayant pas pu être calculée le 30 juin 2023 en raison de la clôture (pour jour férié) des principales places boursières où le Compartiment est investi.

Dans le rapport annuel au 30 juin 2023, les Compartiments fusionnés ou liquidés au cours de l'exercice font l'objet d'une présentation séparée dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net, et ils ont été inclus dans les chiffres combinés.

Les états financiers du Fonds et de chacun de ses Compartiments ont été préparés sur la base du postulat comptable de continuité de l'exploitation.

L'objectif de Amundi Funds Protect 90 est de proposer une participation à l'évolution des marchés financiers tout en offrant une protection partielle permanente à votre investissement sur toute période donnée de 3 ans. En particulier, le Compartiment est conçu de manière à ce que le cours de ses actions ne tombe pas en dessous de 90% de la valeur nette d'inventaire la plus élevée enregistrée depuis le dernier jour ouvrable du mois d'avril qui précède, comme établi dans le prospectus.

- Investissements entre Compartiments - Au 30 juin 2023, les investissements réalisés par des Compartiments dans d'autres Compartiments de la SICAV s'élevaient à EUR 697,761,457, correspondant à 0.97% de la valeur nette d'inventaire totale. La VNI combinée totale en fin d'exercice, investissements croisés exclus, s'élevait donc à EUR 71,199,915,557.
- Portefeuille de titres - Les valeurs mobilières cotées en bourse ou sur un marché réglementé sont valorisées à leur dernier cours connu. Lorsque lesdits cours ne sont pas représentatifs ou lorsque les titres ne sont pas cotés, les valeurs mobilières sont valorisées à leur valeur probable de réalisation, déterminée avec soin et en toute bonne foi par le Conseil d'administration.

² Pour les compartiments Volatility Euro et Volatility World, ce minimum est susceptible d'aller jusqu'à 2.00% de plus, si le Conseil établit que les nouveaux investissements peuvent avoir un effet négatif sur les intérêts des actionnaires existants.

⁴ Pour les classes d'actions A4, l'échange est possible uniquement avec des classes d'actions A4 d'un autre Compartiment de l'OPCVM.

- Conversion d'éléments libellés en devise étrangère - Les états financiers du Fonds sont libellés en euros (EUR). En conséquence, les avoirs nets de chaque compartiment, exprimés en devise étrangère, sont convertis et combinés en euros au cours de change en vigueur à la clôture de l'exercice financier. Les coûts d'opération et d'acquisition des titres du portefeuille, exprimés en devise étrangère, sont convertis dans la devise de référence du Compartiment concerné au cours de change en vigueur à la date d'opération ou d'acquisition, le cas échéant. La valeur de marché des titres du portefeuille et des autres actifs et passifs, exprimée en devise étrangère, est convertie dans la devise de référence du Compartiment au cours de change en vigueur à la clôture de l'exercice financier. Les différences de change résultant desdites conversions sont comptabilisées à la rubrique « Réévaluation de l'actif net consolidé » dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Produits des investissements - Les dividendes sont comptabilisés comme des rendements à la date où ils sont déclarés, dans la mesure où les informations afférentes peuvent être obtenues par le Fonds. Les intérêts sont courus sur une base journalière.
- Allocation des frais et charges - Chaque Compartiment est facturé des frais et charges qui lui sont spécifiquement imputables. Les frais et charges qui ne sont pas imputables à un Compartiment particulier sont répartis entre les Compartiments sur une base équitable, au prorata de leurs actifs nets respectifs.
- Contrats de mise en pension - Les contrats de mise en pension (repos) sont équivalents à des emprunts garantis par des actifs sous-jacents enregistrés dans le portefeuille du Compartiment, lequel reste exposé au risque de marché. Les contrats de prise en pension de titres (reverse repos) sont semblables à des prêts garantis. Dans ce cas, le Compartiment n'est pas exposé au risque de dépréciation de la valeur des actifs sous-jacents. Les contrats de mise en pension et de prise en pension de titres sont considérés comme des emprunts et des prêts, respectivement, du montant des liquidités reçues et/ou payées.
- Contrats de futures - Les contrats de futures non échus sont évalués à leur dernier cours connu à la date d'évaluation ou à la date de clôture, et les plus-values et moins-values latentes qui en résultent sont comptabilisées dans l'État de l'actif net. Les bénéfices/(pertes) nets réalisés et la variation nette des bénéfices/(pertes) non réalisés sur contrats de futures sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Contrats d'options de type futures - Les contrats d'options de type futures sont évalués au cours coté sur une Bourse officielle. Les dépôts de sécurité initiaux sont payés en espèces à la passation du contrat. Les flux de trésorerie positifs ou négatifs ultérieurs, appelés marges de variation, sont périodiquement payés ou reçus par le Compartiment et dépendent des changements de la valeur de marché des contrats d'options de type futures. À la clôture du contrat, le compartiment concerné enregistre un gain ou une perte réalisé équivalent à la différence entre les produits (ou les coûts) découlant de la transaction de clôture et de la transaction d'ouverture. Les plus-values et moins-values nettes non réalisées sur contrats d'options de type futures sont comptabilisées dans l'État de l'actif net. Les bénéfices/(pertes) nets réalisés et la variation nette des bénéfices/(pertes) non réalisés sur contrats d'options de type futures sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Contrats de change à terme - Les contrats de change à terme non arrivés à expiration sont évalués à leur dernier cours connu à la date d'évaluation ou à la date de clôture de période, et les plus-values et moins-values latentes qui en résultent sont comptabilisées dans l'État des actifs nets. Les bénéfices/(pertes) nets réalisés et la variation nette des bénéfices/(pertes) non réalisés sur contrats de change à terme sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Évaluation des options et des options sur swaps - Les options officiellement cotées en Bourse ou sur tout autre marché réglementé qui fonctionne de manière régulière, qui est reconnu et qui est ouvert au public, sont évaluées sur la base de leur cours de clôture à la date d'évaluation ou, en l'absence de cours disponible, sur la base des derniers cours connus. Les options de gré à gré, y compris les options sur swaps, sont évaluées au prix du marché d'après les éléments définis dans les contrats correspondants. Si les derniers cours connus des options cotées ou les cours calculés pour les options de gré à gré ne sont pas représentatifs, l'évaluation s'appuiera sur la possible valeur de réalisation estimée par le Conseil d'administration de la SICAV, avec prudence et en toute bonne foi. Les bénéfices/(pertes) nets réalisés et la variation nette des bénéfices/(pertes) non réalisés sur options de gré à gré et options sur swaps sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Swaps - Le Fonds est autorisé à contracter des swaps de variance, des credit default swaps, des swaps sur rendement total, d'inflation, d'actif, de taux d'intérêt ou de devises. Ces swaps sont comptabilisés à la valeur de marché d'après l'évaluation des éléments définis dans les contrats. Le bénéfice net non réalisé est inclus à la rubrique « Plus-value nette non réalisée sur swaps et CFD » de l'État des actifs nets, et la perte nette non réalisée est incluse à la rubrique « Moins-value nette non réalisée sur swaps et CFD » de l'État de l'actif net. Les bénéfices/(pertes) nets réalisés et la variation nette des bénéfices/(pertes) non réalisés sur swaps sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Instruments du marché monétaire - Le marché monétaire couvre des instruments financiers qui présentent une grande liquidité et des échéances très courtes. Il est utilisé par les opérateurs comme moyen pour emprunter et prêter à court terme, avec des échéances généralement comprises entre 24 heures et un peu moins d'un an. Pour les instruments monétaires, l'accroissement (différence entre le coût et la valeur amortie) est comptabilisé à la rubrique « Variation nette de la plus ou moins-value non réalisée sur les placements et sur les dettes dérivés de contrats de prise en pension » dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net pour les titres détenus en fin d'exercice. Si les instruments ont été vendus ou remboursés, ce résultat est comptabilisé en « Bénéfice/(perte) net(te) réalisé(e) sur vente de titres » dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net.
- Titres TBA (To Be Announced) - Les positions TBA font référence à la pratique de négociation courante sur le marché des titres adossés à des créances hypothécaires selon laquelle un titre est acheté à partir d'un groupe de crédits hypothécaires (par ex. Ginnie Mae, Fannie Mae ou Freddie Mac) pour un prix fixe à une date future. Au moment de l'achat, le titre en question n'est pas précisément connu, seules ses principales caractéristiques sont spécifiées. Bien que le prix ait été déterminé au moment de l'achat, la valeur principale n'a pas encore été fixée. Les positions TBA sont indiquées dans le portefeuille de titres. L'achat de ce type de titres n'a pas été réglé et, par conséquent, le montant correspondant à la dette due au moment du règlement de la transaction figure à la rubrique « Dettes à payer aux courtiers » dans l'État de l'actif net. Les bénéfices/(pertes) réalisés sur les titres TBA et les variations de la plus- ou moins-value non réalisée sont comptabilisés dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net, respectivement aux rubriques « Bénéfice/(perte) net(te) réalisé(e) sur vente de titres » et « Variation nette de la plus- ou moins-value non réalisée sur les placements et sur les dettes dérivés de contrats de prise en pension ». Risque lié aux MBS / ABS Les titres adossés à des créances hypothécaires et les titres adossés à des actifs (MBS et ABS) comportent en général un risque de remboursement anticipé et de prolongement et peuvent aussi comporter des risques de liquidité, de crédit et de taux d'intérêt supérieurs à la moyenne.
- Bénéfice/(perte) net(te) réalisé(e) sur vente de titres - Le montant de la rubrique « Bénéfice/(perte) net(te) réalisé(e) sur vente de titres » de l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net reflète la différence entre le coût et le produit des titres vendus, en tenant compte des impacts liés au marché et à la devise.
- Coûts d'opération - Les coûts d'opération comprennent les frais de courtage et les frais facturés par le dépositaire relativement aux opérations sur titres et aux opérations sur produits dérivés. Les coûts d'opération sont exclus des coûts d'achat et de vente relatifs aux titres et aux produits dérivés. Tous ces frais sont comptabilisés à la rubrique « Frais de courtage et de transaction » dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net. Voir note 23 qui décrit les frais de réception et transmission d'ordres.
- Contrats sur différence (CFD) - À chaque date d'évaluation, la différence de cours entre le cours d'ouverture et le prix courant du marché du titre ou de l'indice sous-jacent vis-à-vis du contrat sur différence (CFD, de l'anglais Contract for difference) est enregistrée à la valeur de marché (gain ou perte non réalisé) du contrat ; lorsque le compartiment réalise une transaction de clôture, la différence entre le montant notionnel d'ouverture et le montant notionnel de clôture du titre sous-jacent est comptabilisée comme gain ou perte réalisé aux rubriques Bénéfice/(perte) net(te) réalisé(e) sur swaps et sur CFD dans l'État des opérations et des variations de l'actif net. Les dépôts de sécurité peuvent être effectués en espèces à la passation du contrat sur différence. Les paiements ultérieurs, appelés marges de variation, sont périodiquement versés ou reçus par le compartiment et dépendent des changements de la valeur de marché des contrats sur différence en cours.
- Prêt de titres - Dans les transactions de prêt et d'emprunt de titres, un prêteur transfère des titres ou instruments financiers à un emprunteur, sous réserve que l'emprunteur s'engage à restituer des titres ou instruments financiers équivalents à une date future ou au moment demandé par le prêteur. L'emprunteur doit fournir une garantie, qui se prolonge tout au long de la période de prêt et qui est au minimum équivalente à l'évaluation globale des titres prêtés, majorée de toute marge de sécurité jugée appropriée en fonction de la qualité de la garantie.

5 FRAIS DE PERFORMANCE

Les frais de performance sont calculés séparément pour chaque classe d'actions. Ils sont cumulés chaque jour, déduits et payés annuellement pour chaque classe d'actions. Le mécanisme appliqué est détaillé sur le site Internet www.amundi.lu/Amundi-Funds

Les Compartiments et les Classes d'actions faisant l'objet d'une commission de performance sont répertoriés sur le site Internet www.amundi.lu/Amundi-Funds.

6 FISCALITÉ DU FONDS - TAXE D'ABONNEMENT

Par ailleurs, le Fonds est redevable au Luxembourg d'un impôt de 0.05% par an relativement aux Compartiments en actions, aux Compartiments obligataires, aux Compartiments multi-actifs, aux Compartiments protégés et aux Compartiments à rendement absolu (à l'exception des investissements réalisés par lesdits Compartiments dans d'autres organismes de placement collectif établis au Luxembourg et déjà assujettis à la taxe d'abonnement, pour lesquels aucun impôt n'est appliqué), et de 0.01% par an relativement aux Compartiments en liquidités et aux classes d'actions H, I, J, M, O, OR, SE, X et Z de tous les Compartiments (taxe d'abonnement), ledit impôt étant dû trimestriellement sur la base de la VNI du Fonds à la fin du trimestre calendaire correspondant.

Le bénéfice de la taxe d'abonnement de 0.01% par an est accessible aux actionnaires admis aux classes d'actions H, I, J, M, O, OR, SE, X ou Z au titre des dispositions légales, réglementaires et fiscales du Luxembourg dont le Fonds a connaissance au moment de l'admission d'un investisseur aux dites classes d'actions.

Il ne peut cependant être donné aucune garantie pour le passé ni pour le futur, et l'éligibilité des investisseurs est sujette à l'interprétation, de temps à autre, de toute autorité compétente au sujet du statut d'un investisseur éligible aux classes H, I, J, M, O, OR, SE, X ou Z. Ladite reclassification effectuée par une autorité compétente en ce qui concerne le statut d'un investisseur pourrait exposer l'intégralité de la classe d'actions à un taux de taxe d'abonnement de 0.05% par an.
